TIRE WORKERS GET $54,000 YULE BONUS

Company Announces Checks to Go to 1,600 Factory and Salaried Employes.

OUTLOOK 'VERY BRIGHT'

Survey Indicates Plant Will Run on Full Schedule in 1939, Stephens Says.

The Mansfield Tire & Rubber company today announced the distribution of Christmas bonuses totaling more than $54,000 to both factory and salaried employes.

More than 1,600 will participate in the bonus this year, an increase of 283 over the number on the payroll of the company last December.

G. W. Stephens, president and general manager, said that after making a survey of the outlook for next year's business, he felt confident that so far as his company was concerned, the outlook for 1939 was "very bright."

Encouraging Note.

The same encouraging note was sounded by Stephens in a letter accompanying each bonus check. In it he expressed appreciation for the "manner in which employes have co-operated throughout the year," and that as far as it was possible to determine at this time, "there was every indication that the present full production schedule would continue throughout the winter months."

Stephens also announced that in view of the outlook for 1939, the company decided a few months ago to make an addition to the plant which will represent an investment of about $200,000.

The addition, already under way, is scheduled to be completed April 1.

Ready to Boost Production.

"It will make it possible to increase production from 1,500 to 2,000 tires a day providing the company increases its business in 1939 to that extent," Stephens said.

"This will result in giving employment to a number of additional workers, and the company's policy in adding new workers will be the same as it has been in the past, which is to give first consideration to those residing in Mansfield."

The bonus set-up provides that employes working on an hourly basis, whose services with the company began previous to Jan. 1, 1938, will receive one full week's pay based on their average hourly earnings.

Those who have been with the company less than one year will be paid a bonus in proportion to the number of months they have been

Cowboy Films And Comedies On Tap For 'Can Matinees'

Flying hoofs, the crackle of gun shot and the dying gasps of dastardly bad men of the Great Open Spaces will not be the only form of entertainment offered at the Ritz and Park theaters Saturday morning when each of those show houses give a "can matinee" to help fill Christmas baskets for the needy.

There will be howling comedy with such favorites as Charlie Chase, Laurel and Hardy and "good ole Popeye."

Each theater will offer just the kind of a program that will appeal to the boys and girls who like action and lots of it.

At the Ritz there will be Gene Autry, the most popular Western star of the day, singing and fighting his way through "Comin' Round The Mountain;" a Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Perfect Day," a Popeye cartoon, "Babies and Infinks," and a news reel.

And at the Park theater, which opened during the past summer and is making its first contribution to the annual Christmas baskets for needy families, there will be "Romance On The Range," a musical western with Fred Scott the "tall and handsome" singing cowboy; Charlie Chase getting into and out of a mess of misery in "The Big Squirt;" a color cartoon, "A Coach For Cinderella" and a news reel.

Never were bigger-and-better programs offered by Mansfield theaters for the price of a can of tomatoes, or beans, or corn, or what have you.

HUNT FAKE BILLS

Police Told counterfeit $5 Note Passed at Liquor Store.

Police today were investigating the circulation of counterfeit $5 bills in Mansfield after one of the spurious notes had been passed at the state liquor store at 24 South Park street, yesterday.

The bogus bill was detected by a liquor store employe during the daily cash check. F. C. Poling, manager of the store, reported to police that the bill had been taken in by one of the employes.

Racket Buster

Reversing the usual order, this story should begin with "she got the job." The she is Mary Flynn, of New York, who has been sworn in as assistant district attorney on the staff of Special Prosecutor John Amen who is investigating Brooklyn law enforcement agencies. Miss Flynn merely walked into the prosecutor's office, asked for the job and got it.

NATION'S DEBT $303 A PERSON

Payment Day for Investors Causes Debt to Leap to Record of 39 Billions.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The treasury's debt took a spectacular jump today to the unprecedented average of $303 for every man, woman and child in the country.

This was payment day for investors on $730,000,000 of new bonds and notes sold by the treasury, boosting the debt to a new record of $39,400,000,000. If the treasury's indirect obligation on $5,000,000,000 worth of securities issued by government corporations were added in, the per capita debt would be $341.

The amount due and unpaid on war debts owed the United States by European nations also reached a new peak, passing the $2,000,000,000-mark as another installment became due, with only Finland waiting at the counter to pay.

On the direct national debt alone, the interest cost is more than $1,000,000,000 a year, or almost equal to the combined cost of the army and navy.

Direct treasury obligations are about 50 per cent higher than at the war period peak of $26,596,701,648 on Aug. 31, 1919, and more than double the post-war low of $16,026,087,087 on Dec. 31, 1930.

Of the subsequent $23,375,000,000 debt increase $4,900,000,000 was added during the last two years and two months of Herbert Hoover's administration, and $18,475,000,000 since the start of the Roosevelt administration in March 1933.

GOES TO JURY

Grall, Ex-Sheriff Accused of Bribe, to Know Fate Soon.

ELYRIA—(AP)—The vice bribery case against former Sheriff William F. Grall went to the jury shortly before noon today.

Charged with accepting bribes from the operator of a house of ill fame, Grall faces a sentence of from one to 10 years in Ohio penitentiary if convicted.

The former enforcement officer was attacked as a "silent partner" of the underworld in the closing arguments of William Wickens, assistant county prosecutor.

"In this hell-hole, which took up to $2,000 a month, Grall, an officer sworn to enforce the law, was a partner," Wickens told the jury, referring to the alleged vice resort.

Grall testified in his own behalf yesterday.

Tiny Singer to Make Flying Trip Home to [illegible] for Yule Show

Jane Wilson, Member of Waring Cast, to Have Top Spot Monday.

A LOT of Mansfield people are putting their shoulders to the wheel with a hearty heave-ho to make a success of the Christmas ball and midnight show which will fill many Christmas baskets, but no one is making a greater contribution than the little Mansfielder who will make a flying trip from New York City to sing in the show—without pay.

Jane Wilson of the Fred Waring radio show, whose singing was a hit feature of last year's Christmas program, will take a midnight train out of New York immediately after the Waring broadcast Saturday night, arriving here Sunday afternoon in time for the dress rehearsal at the Coliseum, and then leaving immediately after the show on Monday night.

And she will make the same trip again the following week in order to spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilson, 35 Blymyer avenue. On the second trip she will be accompanied by her brother, Jack Wilson, who is a member of the Waring male chorus.

But the contribution of time, energy and talent is not made with a grand gesture.

"Look," she scribbled hastily today to the office of the Three-Muster-Cheers, sponsors of the Christmas show, "I'll do anything you want me to whether it's singing Flat Floot Fluji or Ava Maria, but don't build me up in the publicity for the show. What I mean is, don't try to make anyone believe I'm featured with the Waring show—you know me, Pal, just a shrinking violet trying to get along. What color dress shall I wear, how long at the top, how long at the bottom or vicey vercey, so to speak?"

The Mansfield girl, who still nurses a big ambition for an operatic career despite her radio work, and who is working long hours daily toward that end with lessons in ballet, French and German and voice, is a member of the Waring girls' trio and sings the solo in his theme song, "Sleep."

For the Christmas show Monday night she will sing "Day After Day" and "Still of the Night" from Cole Porter's "Rosalie."

A number of the most tuneful numbers of the day will be heard at the show, either as vocal numbers or dance specialties.

Tickets for the ball and show are being sold throughout the city, by individuals and at a number of public places.

Proceeds from the affair will be used to buy Christmas dinners for several hundred Mansfield families.

CUTS INTEREST ON SCHOOL LOAN

First Bidding on $45,000 in Foundation Notes Brings 2 Per Cent Rate.

The Mansfield board of education yesterday sold $45,053 in state school foundation notes to the Citizens National Bank and Trust company on its low bid of 2 per cent interest, one per cent less than the board has paid in the past.

The loan, authorized by the state department of education, will provide funds for the operation of Mansfield schools until after Jan. 1. The loan is for an indefinite period, but not beyond Dec. 1, 1939.

Sale of the notes to the Citizens National Bank and Trust company marked the first time the school board has disposed of them on a competitive bidding basis since the state schools foundation program became effective three years ago.

It was also the first time the notes were sold to any bank other than the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank. Loans in the past have been obtained by selling the notes at private sale, with the board paying 3 per cent interest.

The board offered the notes on a competitive basis after the citizens bank requested that it be given an opportunity to bid on them.

Bids were submitted by the Richland Trust company, which asked 2½ per cent interest and offered a $10 premium, and the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank, which requested 3 per cent interest.

The loan is secured by the state department of education's promise to pay Mansfield schools their share of state school funds when the money is available.

$25,000 Tax Advance Averts Loan By City To Meet Payroll

The issuance of notes, authorized by city council last week to meet the municipal payrolls for December was averted today by the receipt of an advance draft of $25,000 in tax revenue.

The advance, sought by City Auditor Paul L. Kelley three weeks ago, includes $14.000 on the current personal tax collection, $5,000 on the intangibles and a $6,000 October and November sales tax settlement.

Kelley said the money would go into the general fund to bolster the meager balance which had dwindled to $1,200, and from which a $7,000 payroll must be met tomorrow. Another payroll for the last half of the month totaling $8,000 is to be distributed next week.

The auditor said the $25,000 would "tide the city over" and would not make it necessary to borrow the $20,000 authorized by council for operating purposes for the balance of the year.

Council at its meeting Dec. 6 had authorized the issuance of $20,000 in short term notes against the anticipation of the collection of the current personal and intangible tax collection, which does not close until later this month.

Kelley sought the legislation as a "protective" measure when informed by County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe that only $14,000 could be advanced from the personal tax collection and that the advance on the intangibles would be "problematical."

Kills Hospital Patient In Knife Attack Revenge

Sailor Empties Gun In Body of Sister's Divorced Husband as He Lies In Bed—Wounds Policeman.

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO—Taking vengeance for a knife attack upon his family, George Dally, 25, a sailor in the U. S. Navy, today stalked into a ward of the San Francisco hospital, killed his sister's divorced husband and gravely wounded a police officer guarding the patient.

Slain instantly was Morris Cornpropst, 24, divorced husband of Dally's sister, Sue, 22. Fifteen days ago Cornpropst seriously slashed another sister, Betty, 23, and the mother, Mrs. Anna Dally, 65, after invading their home. He was shot in the back and abdomen by his ex-wife during the fray.

Sister With Him.

According to police, young Dally, accompanied by his sister, Sue, and an unidentified man drove up to the hospital in a taxicab.

He went to Ward H alone, placed a pistol at the neck of Orderly Leonard Honbroe, 30, and ordered the attendant to take him to Cornpropst.

The terrified orderly took him to Cornpropst's bed in Ward F. Without warning, Dally fired two bullets into Police Officer Walter Salisbury's abdomen and then emptied the revolver at the helpless Cornpropst in bed, several bullets taking effect.

As he stood with the smoking pistol in his hand, another orderly, John Buscovich, tackled him, wrested the gun away and clubbed him to the floor with the death weapon. He was taken into custody.

ROPER RESIGNS

Roosevelt Given Resignation of Commerce Secretary.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Roosevelt accepted today the resignation of Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper effective Dec. 23.

The president said in a letter, made public by the White House, that he knew the "impelling personal reasons" which prompted Roper toask to be relieved of his duties and "I accept your resignation with very sincere regret."

Roper's resignation was the second among cabinet members within recent weeks. Attorney General Cummings has resigned to resume law practice.

Rumors of other changes in the cabinet have circulated ever since the Nov. 8 election. Among those who have been mentioned is that connection are Secretary of War Woodring and Secretary of the Navy Swanson.

POWERS 'REGRET'

U. S. Gets Usual Notes As Nations Default On War Debts.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— America's former World war allies, to whom billions were loaned by this country, today sent the usual politely-phrased regrets to the United States government stating that they again found it impossible to pay anything on their debts.

Although the European nations have been spending billions for arms, they showed no inclination today to resume payments on their huge debts which they stopped after the Hoover moratorium of 1932.

HELD IN THEFT

Three Cambridge Men Accused of Stealing, Cashing WPA Checks.

CAMBRIDGE — (AP) — William Whittle, 25, Teddy Bates, 23, and Otis Davis, 21, were held today in connection with theft of WPA pay checks from mail boxes. Postal Inspector V. M. Sands of Columbus, who made the arrests, said the three must answer charges of theft from the mails, forgery, conspiracy, and impersonating the payees.

COURT REJECTS EFFINGER PLEA

Attorney Indicates He'll Carry Legion Head's Fight to U. S.

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The fight of Virgil H. Effinger, reputed former leader of the terroristic Black Legion, to avoid extradition to Detroit, Mich., to face a charge of criminal syndicalism, suffered a setback today when the state supreme court rejected his appeal.

Effinger's attorney had announced previously that should the Ohio supreme court turn down the appeal the case would be taken to the U. S. supreme court.

Michigan authorities sought Effinger's extradition to compel him to stand trial on the syndicalism charge and a charge of unlawful possession of explosives.

Box reservations for the Christmas ball must be paid for by Saturday in order to hold them. No reservations will be held after Saturday night. Checks should be mailed to Mrs. A. J. Zahniser, 145 Park avenue west, or to the Community Christmas office, 405 Farmers Bank building.

Britain's Riches Exceed Nazi Arms Power, Berlin Told

STATE TO HEAR PAVING APPEAL FOR W. FOURTH

Mayor, Engineer Get 'Date' With Ault Tomorrow on Improvement Plan.

Mayor Claude M. Hunter, accompanied by Boyd Wierman, state highway department resident engineer, tomorrow will go to Columbus to renew their plea for state financial assistance for the improvement of West Fourth street.

Hunter said today that he and Wierman had arranged with I. R. Ault, state highway director, for a meeting at 10:30 a. m., at which time they will re-submit the improvement plans for consideration in the state's 1939 road improvement program.

The project was turned down early last spring by former Director John J. Jaster, who stated at the time that no road improvements were to be made within city limits during 1938.

Chosen for Trip.

The mayor said that he and Wierman had been delegated to make the trip by a group of city and county officials who met yesterday afternoon at the courthouse and discussed the proposed improvement.

He said that he would ask the state highway department to seriously consider the repaving and resurfacing of Fourth street from Diamond street west to the corporation line. The project is estimated to cost nearly $100,000.

The plans submitted early this year had called for the removal of the old street car rails from Main street to Ausdale avenue and the resurfacing of the roadway from Penn avenue to Main street. The job was estimated to cost $86,000.

Hunter said that the additional sections had been added to the original plans because that section of the roadway had also become badly in need of repaving.

DELAYED AGAIN

Pension Checks Held Up by Delayed Certification.

COLUMBUS— (UP) — Failure of State Finance Director M. Ray Allison to certify the state's half of old age pension funds today held up mailing of December checks to 112,000 Ohio pensioners.

Allison refused to comment when asked why the state had not certified funds to the state auditor's office. Certification for the federal share of December funds has been received from the Social Security board.

Allison merely said: "I am not in the pension business today."

There was some speculation whether the state could meet its pension obligation for the month in view of depleted year-end treasury balances. Allison recently declared the state might have to "scratch" to find the money.

SEEKS CHANGE

Ashland Company Asks Dial Phones, Rate Hike for Savannah.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— The Star Telephone Co., Ashland, today asked the State Utilities commission for permission to install a dial exchange at Savannah, Ashland county, and raise its rates accordingly.

Dad Decides On Gamble With Death

NEW YORK—(AP)—A decision that death was better than the life of a cripple was reached today by William Lewis in determining the fate of his cancer-stricken daughter, Dorothy, 8.

"She will live or die on both legs," the father said.

Surgeons have told him the daughter, afflicted with cancer of the thigh bone, must die within 8 or 10 months unless the leg is amputated.

On the other hand, an operation would give her one chance in 10 of living—healthy, but a cripple.

FAIL TO SETTLE ROAD DISPUTE

Commissioners, Low Bidder Unable to Agree, Purdy Ready to File Suit.

Attempts at settlement of a dispute over the awarding of a county road resurfacing contract to the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company apparently had failed today, and W. W. Purdy, who had submitted a low bid on the project, said he would file an injunction suit against county commissioners today or Friday.

Commissioners and Prosecutor G. W. Marriott, who had refused Purdy's request to bring an action against the commissioners, met yesterday with Atty. J. H. Gongwer, counsel for Purdy, in a reported unsuccessful attempt to ward off an injunction suit.

Purdy said his petition would ask that the court hold up the county's $68,000 PWA road project and declare his bid as the lowest and best of the four submitted last week.

Purdy bid $49,590 on the project but quoted a price on gravel base, while the county's bid sheet had specified limestone. The Mansfield Asphalt Paving company bid $54,675, or $5,085 more than Purdy, quoting that price on limestone.

The injunction suit, Purdy said, would be based on the contention that the commissioners' advertisement for bids did not comply with their specifications on the bid sheets. He added that the bidding blanks were not made available to him until three days before bids were opened.

Asserting that "we would be willing to experiment with gravel on a smaller road job," C. L. Mitchell, chairman of the board of commissioners, said today he was "afraid the suit will delay final approval of the project until after the Dec. 31 deadline and cause the county to lose a promised $30,000 PWA allocation for the project."

BLIND 63 YEARS, SHE SEES AGAIN

'Wonderful' Says Grandmother After Cornea Operation.

SEATTLE, Wash.—(INS)—"Gott, it is wonderful," was all Mrs. Mary Olthof, Holland-born grandmother, could say today as she viewed familiar objects about her home for the first time in her 63 years of life.

Blind since birth, the cheery old lady wash given sight through a delicate corneo transplantation operaton.

For the first time she was able to see her children and grandchildren. The streets, buildings, automobiles and all the ordinary things of life struck her with awe.

Christmas Carols Ring Out at Park in Annual Sing Tomorrow

The massed voices of hundreds of Mansfield singers will be heard in nine of the most popular Christmas carols Friday night at the city's annual community sing in Central park.

Augmenting the program will be numbers by Eugene Smart's brass choir; the singing of carols by the Junior high school choir, directed by Miss Fannie Lew Eiler, and solos by Miss Jane Weuthrick, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, George Porterfield and David Weimer.

The committee in charge of the sing invites the public to join in the huge chorus which is expected to make Mansfield's downtown section echo with the world's best-known Christmas songs.

Included in the program announced today will be these nine carols which will be sung by the entire assembly:

"O, Come All Ye Faithful," "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing." "Away in a Manger," "O, Little Town of Bethlehem," "We Three Kings of Orient Are," "The First Noel," "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear," "Angels from the Realms of Glory," and "Silent Night, Holy Night."

The junior high choir will sing "Joy to the World," "Cantique De Noel," "O, Mary, What Ya Gonna Call De New Born Baby?" and "March of the Three Kings."

The sing, scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m., will be sponsored by the Mansfield Public Parks association and the Retail Merchants association.

Introductions will be given by Mayor Claude M. Hunter and Charles Conklin, who will direct the singing. Rev. James L. Boyer, pastor of the First United Brethren church, will give the invocation.

Chamberlain's Warning Says Resources Key Factor In War.

PEACE PRESERVER

Premier Declares Power of Finances Greatest Conflict Barrier.

(By International News Service)

LONDON—An implied warning that Great Britain's enormous financial strength would outweigh German military power in a long conflict was issued today by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

The prime minister's admonition was made in a speech before a house of commons luncheon as Anglo-German relations deteriorated under the impact of the Nazi boycott of Chamberlain's address before the Foreign Press association.

'Deciding Factor.'

"We may take it," Chamberlain declared, "that when German statesmen—I won't say the German people—reflect on the possible consequences of a conflict—if ever a conflict should arise between the two countries, they will think not only of our armaments but of our great financial resources which in a war of long duration might well prove to be the deciding factor.

"It is this sense which is always with us and which is sure to be the greatest influence in preserving the peace of the world."

Chamberlain's reminder of Britain's huge financial resources was made as Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the reichsbank, sought to heal the new breach in Anglo-German relations. Dr. Schacht, who arrived in London on an "unofficial" visit connected with finding monetary means for German Jewish emigration; found plain signs that the attitude of the British government toward the totalitarian powers was stiffening.

Answer Critics.

Following up his blunt announcement yesterday of Britain's grave concern over possible Italian efforts to alter the Mediterranean status quo, the prime minister plainly implied today that Germany would do well to reflect on the possible long-term consequences of a disagreement with England.

The view, expressed in some foreign quarters, that Britain was losing faith in itself is unjustified, according to Chamberlain who answered criticism of an address

ICKES DECIDES

U. S. Secretary Won't Run for Chicago Mayor, Aides Say.

CHICAGO —(UP)—Headquarters of the "Draft Ickes for Mayor" club of Chicago announced today Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes has declined to become a candidate in the 1939 city election.

Prof. Paul H. Douglas of the University of Chicago, chairman of "Draft Ickes" club, said the interior secretary notified him of the decision this morning. Douglas announced the decision with the statement:

"We regret that circumstances have compelled Secretary Ickes not to run for mayor, since we believe that he would have been elected had he run, and hence, could have given Chicago a civic house cleaning which it needs."

MERCURY HITS NEW LOW MARK

Drops to 11 Above But Warmer Weather, Snow Due Tomorrow.

Biting cold and a temperature reading of 11 degrees above zero, lowest of the season, gripped Mansfield today, but warmer weather was promised by Friday.

Under clear skies, the cold rode in on a brisk wind last night, with the mercury dropping 27 degrees from a high of 38 yesterday afternoon.

The temperature had climbed back to 29 at noon today, and the weatherman forecast warmer weather with a possibility of snow flurries tomorrow.

CHIEF CAUTIONS AGAINST YULE FIRE HAZARDS

Asserts Holiday Tragedies in Homes Can Be Averted by Few Simple Rules.

Tragedy such as often stalks the holiday season and brings sorrow instead of happiness to the home can be averted, Fire Chief Charles J. Seeburger said today in issuing a warning in the interests of Christmas safety.

Chief Seeburger pointed to a few simple and effective rules which he said if adhered to, may eliminate the most common causes of fires in the home during the Christmas season.

"These simple precautions against fire should be taken by everyone," he said.

"Christmas greens or trees dry out quickly and become very inflammable," he said. "Discard them soon after the holiday and don't place the tree where it interferes with the exit from the room."

The chief said that if a fire should start, the first act should be to call the fire department, and then an attempt to extinguish it can be made.

Warns Against Candles.

He warned against the use of candles in the window unless they are of electric design, and urged heads of the household to use metal tinsel, flake asbestos and powdered mica for snow effects to eliminate the fire hazard.

"The safest way to light the tree is with a spotlight," Seeburger said, "while the next is colored electric light assemblies. The worst way is with candles.

"Toys requiring alcohol, gasoline or kerosene, and flimsy toy motion picture machines using inflammable film, should also be avoided.

"Cheap electrical playthings are often defectively wired or have insecure connections and should be forbidden."

Seeburger said that Santa Claus should avoid a long beard and above all should keep away from fires. If he or anyone else should catch fire, roll him in a rug or woolen blanket to extinguish the blaze, he advised.

60 ENROLLED IN CITIZEN CLASS

Group One of County's Largest in Recent Years; Friday's Deadline for Filing.

When 13 foreign-born residents of Mansfield filed petitions for citizenship with the county clerk of courts yesterday they boosted the winter citizenship class to 60, largest in the county in recent years.

The deadline for filing petitions to be considered at the final hearing March 16 is Friday. Applicants were aided in filing their petitions at the courthouse yesterday by A. E. Wetherbee, Youngstown, federal naturalization officer, and Norman P. Henry, deputy clerk of courts.

If petitions are approved and applicants pass the citizenship examination next March, they will receive their citizenship papers. Applicants who filed yesterday were:

Wilson Black McLean, 36 Sheridan avenue; Joseph Stirzinger, 26½ Daisy street; Mildred Moxley, 56 Reed street; Theresa Gergeny, 62 Myers avenue; John Arnold, jr., 238 Lida street; Elvira Brackenbury, 118 South Adams street; Christina Farkas, 330 First avenue; Martin Betz, 128 Glessner avenue; Naum Ristoff Balozevi, 228 North Main street; Franz Rolf Schul, R D. 5, Mansfield; Peter Bauer, R. D. 1, Mansfield; John Vrabel, 146 Daisy street, and Mike Jurco, 60 Orchard street.

GALION—Eugene Lyons of Cherry street was admitted to the Good Samaritan hospital Wednesday night to undergo a major operation today. Edith Reed of North Columbus street was dismissed from the hospital Wednesday.

TOLEDO ATTORNEY HOLDS FUTURE OF CITY IN OHIO STATE LEAGUE

By OSCAR RUHL
News-Journal Sports Editor.

MANSFIELD'S future in organized baseball is in the hands of Norman Cohen, a Toledo attorney.

At a recent meeting in Fostoria, Cohen obtained an option on the Mansfield franchise of the Ohio State league. The option runs out Jan. 15, we understand. So whatever the Toledo attorney plans to do with the franchise forfeited by the Boston Red Sox will have to be done before then.

This means that a definite decision on the Mansfield baseball future as far as Cohen is concerned must be made within a few weeks.

If Cohen is actually interested in operating the Mansfield club in the Class D circuit or took over the option on the franchise to help a fellow attorney, Paul Shanks of Toledo, out of an embarrassing position is hard to tell.

Shanks, who is the president of the circuit, has been under fire because of his failure to hasten organization plans for next year. A "gentleman's agreement" could have been arranged between the two attorneys to make Mansfield a prospective member to quiet some of the criticism.

We do not insist that this is the case, but it does seem strange that Cohen interested himself in Mansfield without knowing anything about the local situation.

But, perhaps, we're just skeptical about this baseball business. Mansfield has been fooled so often in the past, you know.

Bill Boliantz On All-America.

THERE may have been better ends in the country than Bill Boliantz, who did a pretty good job of football playing at Mansfield high before enrolling at Kent State, but the ex-Tyger made an All-America team this year. He was selected on a team of players whose names ended with the letter "Z" by an eastern writer . . . Horses are afflicted with almost as many ailments as humans. One thoroughbred recently came down with mumps.

The Sporting News editorially suggests that a veteran baseball player throw out the first ball on opening day instead of some "political hot-shot." The crowd and the veteran would get a thrill fro mthe ceremony, the baseball paper says . . . The dugouts at Comiskey park will be air-conditioned next spring. Poor ball players! . . .

HUNTINGTON, W. Va.,—(AP)—The Fairmont State college 1939 football schedule, announced today, includes a game at Marietta (O.) college, Oct. 6.

Bellville Tilt Tops Cage Bill

Hodgemen Engage Butler in Headliner Friday.

TWO of the quintets boasting perfect records in the Richland county league head Friday night's Class B basketball schedule in this vicinity.

Butler and Bellville are the teams in question, and the tipoff will bring them together on the Bellville planks. Madison, the only other unbeaten county league club, is not scheduled.

Promises Trouble.

The Bulldogs have displayed much strength in scoring their three victories, but they should find Bellville troublesome. Bellville is playing its second year in the league this season and promises to make it interesting for their rivals.

Coach Royd Hodge's men probably underrated because of their poor year last season, made the experts take notice last week when they took Lucas into camp.

In the only other league tussle on schedule Friday, Ontario goes to Lexington in search of its first victory of the season. Lucas and Ontario do not play until Saturday, the former scheduled at Perrysville and the latter at home against Bellville.

Sporting for straight victories, Plymouth's Tigers go to Attica Friday night, while Shiloh, another Twin-Valley league club, performs at New Haven.

Open Title Play.

Friday night will also mark the opening of the N. C. O. conference race, with the Galion-Mt. Vernon game in the latter city heading the card. Mt. Vernon, rated as one of the pre-season favorites, has lived up to expectations in preliminary games, but Galion is no set-up.

Shelby, still without a victory, open at home with Ashland, and the Whippets will need to show more offensive strength than they have to date to take the A's Marion goes to Bucyrus for the other tilt.

One for the Book!

WATERVILLE, Minn.—(AP)—Clarence Miller added insult to injury when Waterville's high school basketball team defeated Janesville, 45 to 4. Miller was high scorer for each team.

He counted 16 points for his own Waterville quint, and tipped in a field goal that counted for two of Janesville's points. The other two were made by two Janesville players who sank a free throw apiece.

BARONS WIN, 1 TO 0

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Winners of a hard-fought 1 to 0 victory over the New Haven Eagles, the Cleveland Barons today moved on to Hershey to play the Bears, Western division leaders in the international-American hockey league.

Cleveland Granted Permission to Play Seven Night Games; Trade Involving Averill Looms.

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—(AP)—Having adopted a uniform ball, finally admitted the inevitability of night baseball and accomplished some scattered trades, the big league magnates wind up their mid-winter gabfest today in a joint appearance before Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

For the past two days the "old jedge" has been in seclusion here, practicing his famous frown in preparation for today's session, when he will ask the boys to get down to cases and tell him if they actually have accomplished anything, no fooling.

No Cash Involved.

Assuming that deals were the design of many of the attendants at this week's confab, the American league saved itself from a virtual shutout last night in a midnight maneuver which sent Ben Chapman, Boston's hard-hitting

Sonny Meder, Winnie Cleckner Set New Mark With 1376 Series

Former Comes Through With 704 Total In Doubles Loop; Latter Contributes 672 Pins.

CLARENCE (SONNY) MEDER and Winnie Cleckner turned out a record 1376 total in the City Class A doubles league at the Meder alleys last night.

With the former contributing the big end with a 704 and Cleckner adding a 672, the pair turned out games of 412, 492 and 472 as they registered three wins at the expense of Freddy Willis, who had a 615, and Clyde Ritter.

Meder featured his string with a middle 257 and then followed with a 245. He opened with a 202. Cleckner hung up scores of 210, 235 and 227.

Cliff Forsythe counted a hefty 675 from games of 231, 208 and 236 as he and his partner, Mike Meder, rolled a 1216, which was good for a pair of wins over Babe Meder and Swank.

Closing with a 257, Jack Applan, paired with Nick Schmidt, shot a 640 and the duo took two games from Heilman, 610, and McKinley. Burdette and Cheney took two tilts from Dale Cleckner and Murphy in the other match.

Lutherans Nip Temple, 29-27, in Overtime

Episcopal, Mayflower, First M. E. Also Triumph.

The First Lutheran cagemen, who are the defending champions, had a close call at the Y. M. C. A. last night, but had the stuff to come through to keep their record unmarred in the Class A Church league. They defeated Temple Emanuel, 29 to 27.

The Lutherans staged an uphill battle all the way and finally won the nod in the overtime period when Harold Lemunyon scored from the field to end the fray with the "sudden death" rule.

Trailing 10 to 5 at the end of the first period and 20 to 11 at the half, the Lutherans regained their stride in the third period. But the Temple held a 24 to 20 advantage going into the final quarter.

First Lutheran knotted the count 27-all in to force the exciting game into the overtime.

Lemunyon and Martin with nine and eight points, respectively, led the Lutherans. Goler, Feld and Stern paced the losers.

All of the other games on last night's bill were hard-fought affairs, too. Episcopal, for instance, had all it could do to edge Central M. E., 19 to 18. A 14 to 7 lead obtained in the first half enabled the Episcopals to triumph.

Mayflower lengthened a one-point lead going into the fourth quarter to turn back Park Avenue Baptist, 24 to 19. The winners, led by Miles, held a 10 to 7 advantage at the intermission. Denzel was high in the scoring column for the Baptists.

The only loose game found First M. E. trimming St. John, 31 to 19. The Methodists obtained a 14 to 4 lead in the first period and never were in danger thereafter. Fogle led the winners with 19 points.

Simpson Five Turns Back Loudonville

Shiplet Leads Bulldogs to 39 to 21 Victory.

The Bulldogs of Simpson Junior high school continued their winning ways on the home court yesterday when they raced to a 39 to 21 victory over the Loudonville reserves.

Coach Bob DeHaven's courtiers showed considerable improvement in this appearance, and the visitors never had a chance after the third period.

Loudonville held its own well in the first half. It trailed by only two points at the end of the first period, the score being 9 to 7. The half ended with the score deadlocked, 13-all.

Led by Bob Shiplet, the Bulldogs really went to work in the third quarter, scoring 15 points to four for the invaders to obtain a 28 to 18 advantage.

The Bulldogs added to their margin in the fourth quarter as they tallied 11 points to four for Loudonville.

Shiplet accounted for 12 points to lead the Simpson attack. Phillips contributed four baskets. Every Loudonville player scored, but none got more than five points.

INDIANS OBTAIN CHAMPAN

outfielder, to Cleveland for Pitcher Dennis Galehouse and Rookie Infielder Tommy Irwin. No cash was involved.

The exchange was a hasty concoction by which the Red Sox hope to reinforce their pitching staff and the Indians to solve the wobbly outfield problem.

Chapman hit .340 last season, sufficient to rank him among the leaders even in the hard-hitting American league. But he will be 30 years old come Christmas day and has spent nine years in the big show.

Galehouse came up to Cleveland five years ago as a promising righthaander. He is still promising. Last year he won seven and lost eight in 36 starts which leaves him safe for the Red Sox if he has a payoff in his system.

About all the owners have done is compromise on a uniform ball. This will be viewed as an effort to stem the Yankees' power, because the raised seams were found last season to give the National league pitchers better control and to lend wider sweep to their curves. However, demonstrations have proved the ball travels just as far as the old lively sphere when hit solidly.

Owner Clark Griffith of Washington apparently has shoved through an amendment to the rules that will help some of the pitchers. It provides that the hurler need have only one foot on the rubber at the start of his wind-up. The other foot (the left one in the case of a right-hand hurler) may be well back. This gives the pitcher a longer sweep with his free leg, as Griff, an old pitcher, himself, demonstrated.

Yankees Play One.

Night baseball broke down the final barrier when the American leaguers granted Cleveland and Philadelphia permission to play seven nocturnal games each next season. The National league accepted the lights two years ago, and it had to come to the American. Though they haven't said so officially, the Yankees have indicated willingness to play one night game each in Cleveland and Philadelphia this season. Such a game in the big municipal stadium at Cleveland might set a new attendance record for a single contest.

Cincinnati, home of the first professional ball club, has bid for both the minor and major league meetings next year, which will be celebrated as the centennial of the game. Chances are that Cincinnati will get them, too.

AVERILL ON BLOCK?

NEW YORK—(INS)—A major American league player deal that seems to forecast at least one more today was the Boston Red Sox swapping of Outfielder Ben Chapman to Cleveland for Pitcher Dennis Galehouse and Infielder Tommy Irwin.

Chapman's acquisition by the Indians persuades baseball observers to believe that the veteran Earl Averill is through at Cleveland and soon will be traded, possibly to Detroit. Both Chapman and Averill are center fielders.

* * *

Pinky Higgins May Go to Detroit.

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK — (AP) — That Indians-Tigers-Red Sox deal didn't come off as reported, you may have noticed, but the boys were still talking it over early today . . . With Pinky Higgins from Boston to Detroit as the latest gossip in the swap. . . . Bill Benswanger says he has a deal or two in the fire for his Pirates and hopes to complete some trades before the baseball meetings wind up today.

Clark Griffith swears he'll never make Al Simmons a free agent . . . If Griff can't swap for Aloysius, he'll give him a contract for 1939—which should make things just lovely after that row they had the end of last season. . . . Chuck Klein is in town, looking very healthy. . . . And Hank Greenberg dropped in to wish one and all a Merry Christmas. . . . Best hosts of the meeting—the Brooklyn Dodgers . . . for which Larry McPhail is receiving bouquets from everybody for the first time since he came to town . . . They're really doing things up brown for the boys. . . . The writers previewed the new American league movie, "First Century of Baseball" today.

If it weren't for the jokers like Casey Stengel, Jimmy Dykes and Chuck Dressen, the baseball meetings would be a complete bust for the writers who have to sit around among the potted palms by the hours and wait for something to pop . . . Those lads keep things popping.

Findlay Star to Join Oils

Gottfried to Play With Hi-Speeds Monday.

Fritz Gottfried of Crestline, erstwhile Findlay college star, will return to action in the City Class A basketball league Monday night when he performs with Earl Herrick's Hi-Speeds.

Gottfried, who played a couple of games with the Canzols in the circuit last year, was signed by Herrick as the Hi-Speeds attempt to strengthen their roster in an effort to figure in the second round race which gets underway a week from Monday.

The opening round title race will draw to a close at Mansfield high Monday night with the undefeated Yuncker Sports and the Westinghouse Electric combine meeting in the feature atraction at 8:30 o'clock.

Monday evening's opening game tosses the Hi-Speeds against the Elks Lodge club.

Yuncker's outfit, which cinched a share of the crown by turning back the Elks last week, must win to win the title. A victory for the Westies will give them a share of the crown.

Chuckovitz Renews Assault On Scoring Record Tonight

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—Away to a sizzling pace of 50 points in two games, Chuck Chuckovitz, University of Toledo's great forward, renews tonight his assault on the three-year Ohio basketball scoring record set last year by Nick Frascella of Wooster.

Chuckovitz and the other Rockets play host to the St. Mary's five from Winona, Minn., which will meet John Carroll Saturday night in Cleveland.

Although slightly behind his two-game mark of 65 last year when he tallied 41 points in the second game against Adrian, the high-scoring Toledo forward can easily break Frascella's record if he maintains a pace even close to 20 points. The Rockets play 28-games and Chuck needs only 9 points a game to top Frascella's 983 points for three seasons.

Chuckovitz netted 24 points in Toledo's opener against Hillsdale and 26 against Defiance Monday night.

On other floors tonight, Ohio Northern and Ashland, each with one Ohio conference triumph in the past week, clash at Ashland; Muskingum meets Kent State in another conference tilt while Wittenberg continues its strenuous road trip against Swarthmore in Pennsylvania.

Denison trimmed Kenyon, 36 to 32, last night in the Big Red's debut in a close game all the way. Denison led, 19 to 15, at the half. Al McNeil made nine points for Denison and Stu Chubbock netted the same total for Kenyon.

Two sophomores, Dick Hartman of Findlay with 20 points and Jack Buttermore of Massillon with 18 sparked Ohio Wesleyan to a surprising 74 to 47 margin over Western Michigan State Teachers' college at Delaware.

Jim Zechman looped in 22 points while Bowling Green measurer Ypsilanti Teachers, 48 to 41.

Wittenberg's traveling squad ran into its first setback in three games when Muhlenberg won, 36 to 34, at Allentown, Pa.

Six-Rounders Set for Card

Two Bouts Added to Mat Bill at Armory.

Officials of the Quality Club announced today that a pair of six-round boxing matches will be signed to strengthen the "combination" card in the Armory Friday night. Names of the pugilists are not known.

Boxing was introduced on a mat card here last week, with the result that fans of both sports went away entirely pleased. Matchmaker Tim Nolan is evidently planning to continue this type of offering until further notice.

Wrestling headliners this week will be Everett "Silent" Rattan, Walter Stratton, Whitey Wahlberg and Jack Lipscomb. Rattan opposes Stratton in the nominal feature and Wahlberg starts his "comeback" against Lipscomb, a newcomer to this vicinity.

YANKEES, REDS STINGY WITH FIELD GOALS

Permitting only one field goal, the Yankees, led by Brooks' 10 points, defeated the Cubs, 12 to 2, and Zivkoff, with 12 points, led the Reds to a 16 to 2 win over the Giants in the Ranger club league games at the Friendly House yesterday.

DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT!

A loan is not difficult to arrange. It is not burdensome to repay. You are not charged for a single day longer than you have the money. Friends or employers need not know of your transaction. We do not expect you to have a first class credit rating. You are not compelled to repay by a hard-and-fast rule. Penalties are not imposed on over-due payments. You are not made to feel we are doing you a great favor. You do not pay excessive costs or hidden charges. Even those most experienced in business affairs will find that arranging a loan here is surprisingly easy and free from common misconceptions.

Tom Carr Loan

INTERSTATE REDUCES THE PAYMENTS ON ALL LOANS

At a time when the cost of almost everything else is rising, Interstate REDUCES its payments on all loans.

We continue the same liberal credit requirements with our new reduced payment terms.

Take advantage of these small payments or pay faster if you like.

Let us help you when you are in need of cash. We invite you to consult us — without obligation — whenever you have a financial problem. Come in, write or 'phone.

PROFIT TAKING REDUCES EARLY MARKET GAINS

Aviations Active as Douglas, United and Sperry Post New Highs for Year.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — Stocks mounted fractions to more than a point today to the best levels since Nov. 17 in active trading. Trading was at the most active pace since Nov. 10. Steel, aviation, rail and railroad equipment, and selected oil, building and chemical shares were leaders on the upside.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Stocks encountered profit taking on an early upsurge in today's market and initial gains running to a point or so were reduced in subsequent proceedings.

Favored issues included U. S. Steel, Youngstown, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Rubber, Consolidated Edison, Phelps Dodge, American Can, Oliver Farm, Paramount and Texas Corp.

Douglas, United and Sperry led the aviations and posted new highs for the year.

Among straws in the market wind were: he Texas Railroad commission ordered continuation of statewide oil wells shut-downs for eight days a month through January, February and March.

Bank clearings in 22 cities, for the week ended yesterday, were estimated by Dun & Bradstreet to have exceeded the total in the corresponding period last year by 3.9 per cent, although falling somewhat under the previous week.

CAPITAL PUTS ON A SHOW AND IT'S A BIG ONE

Big Names, Big Talk in Four Separate Hearings Offer Amusement . . . Free.

By EDDIE GILMORE

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Step right up, folks . . . the show is on . . . four big attractions on Capitol Hill . . . big names. . . big talk . . . it's all free . . . four performances at once . . . count 'em!

Yes, sirree — four big congressional committees meetings at the same time . . . the seats are free . . . the rooms are warm. . . hear the latest theories . . . the oldest theories. . . hear what's wrong with the country . . . hear what's right . . .

Hurry, hurry, to Baghdad on the Potomac.

On the left, folks, you see the senate profit-sharing committee offering some of the biggest names in America . . . come on in . . . hear what they say!

What a pageant of personalities! Edsel Ford, John L. Lewis, Lamont duPont, William Green, Gerard Swope . . . more on the way . . a headliner every day.

Heaps of Charts.

And over here we have the monopoly committee . . . look at that stack of graphs and charts and figures . . . watch 'em

Names? Sure.

Isadore Lubin, the labor department economist. He can divide 2,443,785½ by 2569—between cigaret puffs.

All sorts of monopolies. Why, a citizen wrote in and said he knew a man who had a monopoly on furnishing goats as mascots for the navy's football teams.

How long will this hearing last? Senator O'Mahoney, the chairman, says it may go on for two years. You're right, it is a long time, but it's important.

Here we have the committee investigating the TVA—you know, the government's big electricity maker. They're talking power . . . talking power enough to burn a motor that would spin the world . . . No, sir, the electric light on the north wall won't work . . . the bulb's burned out . . .

This hearing starts early and goes on 'till dark. The committee takes just a half hour off for lunch. The others take an hour and sometimes two hours.

Let's go over to the house investigation of un-American activities . . . sit down and hear testimony on many, many things . . . art, drama, the movies, the classics, military movements, spies, labor unions, company unions . . .

Color? Why, there is so much color it looks like an explosion in a paint factory . . . reds . . . black shirts . . . whites . . . parlor pinks . . .

Yes, siree—Baghdad on the Potomac.

Doyle's New Friend

Movita (above), lovely South Sea Islander, is the latest heart interest of boxer-singer Jack Doyle, who announced from Hollywood their engagement to wed. Doyle, ordered deported, seeks to remain in U. S.

CUT JAIL TERMS

Kentucky Courts Hear Complaints On Mounting Costs.

SOMERSET, Ky.— (INS)—When a court asks a court to shorten the sentences of offenders it is news.

That's what happened in Pulaski circuit court, because Pulaski county was running short of funds, which wasn't news.

Fiscal court filed the petition, stating jail expenses during an eight-week period had hit the treasury pretty hard because "minor offenders were getting long sentences.

DELAY HEARING

U. S. Court to Hear Case of Former Ashlander Later.

TAMPA, Fla. —(INS)—Preliminary hearing for Paul Guntrup, formerly of Ashland, O., on charges of violation of the federal vehicle act, had been postponed today pending further investigation.

Nature of the investigation, which is being conducted by federal agents, was not revealed.

The charges against Guntrup, who was taken into custody in Tampa last week, grew out of the alleged transportation of a truck from Ohio to Florida.

Guntrup, denying that he had stolen the truck, told reporters he owned the vehicle but related an involved story of how he had transferred title to a friend to enable the latter to borrow money and then the friend had failed to clear up the title as he promised.

24 COMMITTEES NAMED BY NEW C. OF C. HEAD

VanDerau Adds New Group for 1939, Committee on Passenger Stations.

Clarence L. VanDerau, newly elected president of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce, today announced his selection of 24 standing committees of the chamber for 1939.

One new group, the committee on passenger stations, was added to those on the organization's roster.

The four general divisions under which the committees will function are industry and commerce, publicity and conventions, organization affairs and civic and public affairs.

Other special committees will be added during the year as the need for such committees arise, VanDerau said.

For the fourth consecutive year a woman was named to a committee. She is Miss Justine Sterkel, manager of the Independent Oil company, who was named on the "Know Mansfield" committee.

The various committee selections are:

Industry and Commerce.

Aeronautics—Dr. L. D. Bonar, chairman; Alan P. Tappan, vice chairman; James Harrington, Mayor Claude M. Hunter, Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist, Dr. Paul Stoodt, George Draffan, L. B. Hamilton.

THURSDAY DECEMBER 15 1938.

Some people will continue to prefer providing their own social security.

If there is such a thing as a native-born communist in the United States there'd probably be no mistaking him.

Postoffices over the country report that fewer letters are being addressed to Santa Claus, and possibly children of the age that used to write letters to Santa Claus are now driving around to night clubs.

Chamber of Commerce 1939 Program.

MANSFIELD'S Chamber of Commerce has set for itself an ambitious program for next year, with likelihood of accomplishment of at least several objectives and progress toward others.

Aside from such perpetual objectives as "continuation of work toward efficiency and economy in city, state and national government, to protect against waste of public funds," determination to launch a movement looking toward reform in city and county government possibly stands out as topping the list in importance, for Mansfield's future is to a large extent dependent on making a change, as quickly as possible, to remove partisan politics from the operation of city government and eliminate duplication and waste from township and county government.

For immediate concentration of effort there are the matters of securing uniform house numbering, and installation of a sufficient number of parking meters in the business section to serve as a fair test of the desirability and effectiveness of this innovation in relieving traffic congestion and providing money to pay additional patrolmen for traffic duty.

Such matters as more adequate water supply and increased fire protection facilities sufficient to warrant reduced fire insurance rates have a natural place in the Chamber of Commerce program and merit full co-operation of officials and citizens in general.

Mention is again made of the worthy ambition to gain improvements of railway passenger stations, which has extended more or less hopefully through the past thirty years.

Also on the program are the commendable objectives of continuing efforts to bring new industries to Mansfield; advertising and promoting the sale of Mansfield-made products; encouraging activities to expand Mansfield's retail and wholesale trading area, and attempting to bring more conventions here.

Thoughtful consideration of this program of work gives an idea of the many things that require constant attention if a city is to progress and evidences need for large and active membership in such an organization as the Chamber of Commerce, upon which much dependence is placed to take the initiative along widely varied lines of community betterment.

'Unfit to Govern.'

THERE is food for Nazi and Fascist thought in a statement made by Malcolm MacDonald, colonial secretary of the British government, on colonial claims put forward by the German government. Hitler has been calling for the return of the former German colonies, especially in Africa, held by Britain and France under mandates from the League of Nations.

"I do not believe," says Secretary MacDonald, "that there is today any section of opinion in this country which is disposed to hand over to any other country the care of any territories or peoples for whose government we are responsible, either as a colonial or a mandatory power. We are not discussing this matter. We are not considering it. It is not now an issue in practical politics."

This is very different from the British attitude only a few weeks ago. At the time of the Treaty of Munich and shortly afterward, there seemed to be a willingness on the part of both Britain and France to restore some of the former German colonies. Two things have changed that.

One is the arrogance and cruelty shown by the Nazi government since its Munich victory, especially its persecution of the Jews and its high-handed policy in Czechoslovakia and southeastern Europe. The other is the protest of settlers and natives in all the former German colonies against returning to German sovereignty.

There seems to be a widespread agreement with Mr. MacDonald, that the racial theories and policies of the Nazi rulers of Germany prove them "unfit to govern subject peoples."

Troublesome Wheat Surplus.

THE PROBLEM of what to do with their bumper wheat crops is now troubling the twenty-one nations of the International Wheat Advisory committee. The chairman has called a meeting to be held in London, beginning Jan. 10. They will consider "the present wheat crisis" and "what action the committee should recommend to the constituent governments to cope with that crisis." The wheat-growing countries are said to be perilously near a "dumping war" which would have many unpleasant consequences.

Practically all the wheat-growing countries had bumper crops last season. Even France, which is not normally a wheat-exporting country, has more than enough to meet its domestic requirements and is looking for outside markets.

Several governments have fixed the price of wheat above the world market price, but the wheat remains and must be disposed of. Domestic regulation has not been successful in any country that has tried it. There is doubt that international regulation will get very far unless the wheat governments give the surplus outright to communities that wouldn't buy it.

It is absurd that such a situation should exist when there are so many people in the world who need bread.

However this medical argument works out, some system should be found to give indigent sick people more doctoring and idle doctors more patients.

It now appears that Governor Murphy was defeated in Michigan so that he might be given to the country.

Hard work is an easy habit to break.

Watching Trends

—By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—The ace product of Russia's new mass production automobile industry—a seven-passenger 110-horsepower sedan—is rolling about Washington streets these days, the first of its kind in the country.

It was sent over for use of the embassy and the staff is no end proud of it. In design it is something akin to a Cadillac and frankly follows American streamlining although preserving something of its own personality.

When we went out to the Soviet embassy to see it, Mr. Constantine A. Oumansky gave us the details. Mr. Oumansky is charge d'affaires in the absence of Ambassador Troyanofsky who has been in Russia these several weeks while the usual ominous Russian rumors gather in his wake.

The new car, model ZIS-101, is in mass production in Russia but not sufficiently in mass to supply the home demand. None is for export and according to Mr. Oumansky none will be exported for quite some time.

* * *

Not Enough to Go Around.

THERE is a lively demand at home. Officials need many. A few are able to buy them. Still more receive them for meritorious service. Scientists, engineers and noted figures are likely to get one almost any time—if production keeps up as planned. Plants produced 182,000 trucks and 18,000 automobiles in 1937 compared with 1,702 automobiles and trucks in 1929. Production for this year is scheduled at 250,000 cars and trucks and the 1941 estimate is 500,000.

Washington's ZIS-101 is piloted by an American negro chauffeur named Edward. Edward would be in a fine fix if something went wrong with the car unless he knew instinctively how to repair it. The book of directions is in Russian, of which Edward knows not a word.

The car is slightly narrower through the waist than current modes of high priced American cars. Contrary to usual European modes, it has a left hand drive.

* * *

High Priced Tires.

IT WAS made in Russia to the last bolt, said Mr. Oumansky, even the synthetic tires, which cost twice as much as natural rubber. Reputedly they wear longer but have less road-grip.

Incidentally, the top is lofty enough to permit high hats. The Russian envoys here wear them the same as other diplomats.

It sort of upsets you to learn that such cars are used in Moscow as taxicabs.

Mr. Oumansky read from the book that the car's rated speed is 120 kilometers an hour, which converts into 75 miles an hour. There was some confusion as to whether that was top speed or merely a recommended safety limit. With its motor rating it seems it ought to do 100 miles or better.

* * *

Radio Tuned to Russia.

IT HAS a straight-eight motor and gets about 15 miles to the gallon. It has a heater, the usual gadgets and gauges and a radio with both long and short wave which is tuned to Russian stations. American stations are picked up readily but it is a strictly hunt and peck system. The numbers don't fit.

Very soon now the embassy auto will have some companions in America. Four of its type, including slightly later models, have been unloaded in New York for use of the Russian commission to Grover Whalen's world's fair. They have not been unpacked.

Edward said the car took readily to American gasoline.

OUTSIDE LOOKING IN — FOR ONCE

Cabinet and Court Posts Puzzle

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt faces a real problem on his approaching supreme court and department of justice appointments. As a matter of fact the dilemma extends generally to recruiting for all New Deal officials, in such cases as appointments require confirmation by the senate before the officials can take office.

The senate is feeling its oats. It is returning from the country anti-CIO anti-sitdown strikes, anti-Corcoran and Cohen, and, for the first time, not afraid of what the president might be able to do to punish recalcitrants.

So far as the attorney generalship is concerned, the president's problem is complicated by geography. His real choice for attorney general to succeed Homer S. Cummings is Robert H. Jackson. But Jackson is from New York state, and the Empire state already has three cabinet members — Henry Morgenthau, jr., James A. Farley and Miss Frances Perkins.

* * *

THE once very imminent prospect that Farley would leave the cabinet has been almost eliminated. The Roosevelt "recession" nipped one very good chance for Big Jim to get out and make some money for his family. While waiting for something else to turn up Jim, through a ghost writer, put out his book, which netted him $75,000, according to reliable reports.

Now $75,000 is not much of a capital if a man contemplates retiring and living on the interest, but it is a nice piece of change if one has a regular job paying $15,000 a year and is on two expense accounts — the government's and the Democratic National Committee's. Especially if one's family cares nothing about society, does not want to do a lot of entertaining, and is not interested in keeping up with the Joneses.

So Jim's financial worries are over for the time being. He need not look around for a business job, with the difficulty of getting something which would not be embarrassing to him as chairman of the Democratic National Committee, which latter he has never had the slightest intention of giving up.

* * *

THE other two New Yorkers, Miss Perkins and Henry Morgenthau, could not be pried loose from their jobs. In the first place, they love their work. In the second place, they love the glory of it, the social prestige, in fact everything about it. In the case of Morgenthau, Roosevelt would be genuinely sorry to lose him anyhow. The president does not regard Morgenthau as a Bernard M. Baruch, and he knows that "Henry" is stubbornly committed to a lot of ideas at wide variance from New Deal economics. But he knows also that no one could be more faithful to him than Morgenthau, that no one could be more loyal in every spoken word OUTSIDE the White House, and that no one could more meticulously carry out White House orders. Which, after all, is a good deal.

Miss Perkins is sometimes a worry to the president. She is doing better now, but for a time she could not have stirred up more trouble for the White House on Capitol Hill, if that had been her particular objective—simply because she rubbed the fur of senators and important representatives the wrong way. But Miss Perkins also is known for her utter loyalty, and she has the enthusiastic backing of Mrs. Roosevelt.

In addition, her leaving the cabinet would open up a real problem, unless the president were to appoint Edward F. McGrady, the only known person who could be appointed secretary of labor without starting something approaching a civil war between the A. F. of L. and C. I. O.

But for many months the president resisted the suggestion that he make this particular change. This was during the period when it seemed unlikely that any formula could be worked out which would permit passage of the wages and hours regulation bill. McGrady's appointment then would have solved the problem as to where to lodge the enforcement machinery. Having failed to make the change when the reason was so important, it is scarcely likely the president would make it now just to solve a geographical problem on his cabinet.

Health Advice

Nervousness Causes Great Suffering.

—By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

NERVOUS people suffer intensely and are liable to become very much discouraged. They do not often find a physician who satisfies them. It is unfortunate that they cannot find one like the great French physician, DuBois, who described his way of going about the treatment of a man who had been extremely nervous for years:

"All right, then," said the doctor to him, "you may stay with me and you will be cured. The directions that you are to follow are these:

"1. You are to lie in bed for six weeks. All such sicknesses as yours are more or less related to an actual exhaustion, and from this fact come indications that, at least for a certain time, your output of effort be reduced to the minimum. Besides, your loss of weight makes this complete rest very desirable.

Dyspepsia, Too.

"2. Since you have suffered from dyspepsia, and this dyspepsia, as I shall at the proper time explain to you, is more mental than physical, during six days you will get a diet exclusively of milk and you need not tell me you can't tolerate milk, milk is always well tolerated.

"3. After the seventh day you are to be massaged. This isn't an absolutely necessary measure, but it will improve the circulation in muscles and the skin, which grow sluggish in the absence of exercise.

"You are an intelligent man and I will begin to talk to you and try to explain to you the reason of the symptoms which apparently are so puzzling to you. Six obstacles stand in your way, so to speak. You can't stand, you can't go, you can't read; furthermore, you can't eat like other people; your bowels do not move regularly, and, finally, you are unable to get fat. Now all those obstacles can be brushed aside or, to put it better, they have no real existence; they are only in your head."

Three Already Gone.

This treatment was followed and at the end of the third week the patient said:

"Doctor, three of the obstacles have already fallen, or, to put it better, they have no longer reality when I find myself confronting them. In the first place, to my great astonishment I have been able to take milk; I can eat everything, and none of the foods that I formerly regarded as indigestible has hurt me in the least. Under this treatment my bowel movements have become so regular they take place every morning at a definite hour. Lastly, I have gained four pounds every week. The other difficulties remain."

"I understand," answered the doctor. "They are in fact undoubtedly your most serious symptoms; but think of this, you have no organic disease, you are only nervous. All your symptoms belong in the same pot. Since you have gotten rid of three of them, you can get rid of the three others. Bear in mind the symptoms you have been cured of. During the remainder of your rest cure nail the thought of all that down tight in your brain. Don't make any effort to stand up, to walk, or to read; a failure might discourage you."

At the end of six weeks these other three obstacles had disappeared and within six months the man is described as completely cured.

A Farmer's Diary

New Overalls.

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE mail man brought the package, and I carried it home upon my shoulder. For the unpacking, the children gathered round, with delighted squeals—although the contents of the package were no surprise, but only such necessities as underwear, stockings and overalls.

New overalls! Each of the three little boys had a pair, made of strong blue denim, with double knees and elbows, ample, and store smelling. Their eyes grew large and their faces beamed as they put them on.

"The legs are a mite too long, but I'll turn them up," said the eight-year-old.

"Then they'll look like Daddy's," remarked three-and-a half.

The toddling baby wore his first with complacent pride. He marched around the room, after his brothers, mimicking whatever he saw the older boys do.

They played they were Indians. It was no far-fetched game. They are naturals in the part. With feathers in their hat bands they rode upon brooms, galloping so fast and furious, and yelling so loud, that I, as "heap big Chief," could only look and wonder.

Then the most vociferous, middle-sized Indian hit the corner of the table with his head, and horse and rider fell in a shapeless groaning heap. I rubbed the fast-forming knot above his eye, soothed his injured pride, and when he was quiet, sent them all to bed. The overalls must be hung upon the bed post. The broomstick must be tied to the rail, ready to ride at dawn.

In slumber the bump above his eye was dark, and his red cheeks were tearstained, but a smile was at the dimpled corner of his mouth. I listened to his free and healthy breathing, and hoped that in his dreams, he would enjoy the adventure and action that he loved.

Three pairs of overalls, bearing the new-made creases of romping boys. I laid them in a row, and looked at them, and at the three small future farmers in their beds. They will carry my name and life into the years to come—and I felt humble.

Listen, World!

You Must Learn to Think In New Ways.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

HUNDREDS of letters come to this desk weekly. More than half of those letters are from men and women over forty. Miserable men and women who feel their lives going to pieces, but don't know what to do about it, so try to ease their pain by railing against society, against fate.

"Why should things end like this for me?" each one cries.

"I've always done the best I could. Of course I've made mistakes: done some things I'm sorry for. But, in the main, I've tried to act as my parents taught me. Yet nothing has turned out right.

"It can't be my fault. For, once upon a time, if a person was honest and kind and hardworking, he got along fine. But that isn't so any more. No matter how hard I try, things won't turn out right. There must be something wrong with the world. It's no use trying to be decent any more. The world's gone crazy."

Bitter — bewildered lives like that — is yours one of them? Are you, "trying to do your best, and getting nowhere?" Do you, too, think "there's something wrong with the world"?

There isn't. The world's all right, partner. But it's growing. It's growing and changing faster than ever before in its history. During the last fifty years this world has changed more than in the preceding five hundred years.

That has meant some tough hustling for the humans who have lived through those fifty years. It has meant one difficult adjustment after another. Learning how to live in new ways, use new tools, think new thoughts, meet new conditions. And, almost as soon as one lesson was learned, it had to be discarded and another tackled.

Why are so many of us who are over forty bitter and bewildered?

That's why. We have refused to do these things.

Long ago, as children, we learned one way of living. It was a way of living which our fathers and grandfathers had used before us, with little change, for hundreds of years. They believed in that way of living. They believed that if people lived that way they could be healthy and happy, prosperous and popular. They taught us these things, and we started to operate in the same old rut.

Then along came the Machine Age, and the world started turning cartwheels! Cartwheels of progress they really were—great, whirling leaps forward toward a new age. But most of us couldn't see it. We could only see that we were jolted out of our comfortable rut, that the old rules wouldn't work.

And so today, you are facing life heart-sick and confused. What's the matter?

YOU'RE THE MATTER.

Life's all right. The world's all right. They both are raising whoopee. But it's healthy whoopee.

And you'd have a swell time if you joined in. But that's the trouble—you won't join in.

YOU ARE TRYING TO HANG ON TO YOUR OLD HABITS, YOUR OLD IDEALS, YOUR OLD WAYS OF DOING THINGS—AND IT CAN'T BE DONE.

And you've no right to expect that it can be done. If you built a house in the path of an avalanche, you'd have no right to be peeved if the avalanche roared down over you and smashed you to smithereens.

That is exactly what is happening now. Life in 1938 is an avalanche. The coming of machines has changed everything. Speeded up everything. If you won't change—if you won't speed up—then it's just your bad luck.

YOU'VE GOT TO THINK IN NEW WAYS.

YOU'VE GOT TO THINK IN NEW WAYS ABOUT YOURSELF; ABOUT YOUR OBLIGATIONS. YOU'VE GOT TO CUT OUT THE LAZY OLD ALIBIS, THE SLOPPY OLD SENTIMENTALITIES, THE COWARDLY OLD EVASIONS — AND GET DOWN TO BRASS TACKS!

YOU'VE GOT TO THINK IN NEW WAYS ABOUT YOUR COUNTRY — WHAT A DEMOCRACY REALLY IMPLIES; WHAT A DEMOCRACY SHOULD REALLY DO.

YOU'VE GOT TO THINK IN NEW WAYS ABOUT LIFE. YOU'VE GOT TO SEE THAT LIFE ISN'T JUST THE PETTY, PERSONAL PROGRAM WHICH IT WAS FOR YOUR FATHER, BUT THAT IT IS A VAST, IMPERSONAL PERFORMANCE WHICH HAS NO PLACE FOR SLACKERS OR SLOW-POKES.

You've got to do all these things if you want to live powerfully and pleasantly in years to come.

And if you won't?

Why then, my friend, I suspect you'll just have to take the consequences. For it's a cinch that life isn't going to stop to coax you into line.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Say, Uncle Tuck, how 'bout telling us a story?

All right, children, but you'll have to be good and sit quietly and not talk.

We'll be good, Uncle Tuck.

Well, let me see. Once upon a time there were three brothers and their names were Howell, Edward and James. Howell was the eldest and he became a lawyer. Edward, the second brother, became a chemist. And James, the baby, became an orchestra leader.

Now maybe you know all about James, but not by that name. Because that's the name his mother calls him by when she doesn't call him Baby. But that's not the name everybody calls him by. Everybody else calls him Kay, and when you remember that his last name is Kyser, why who in the world could it be but Kay Kyser, the man who introduced singing titles to radio?

Gee, Uncle Tuck, who told you all those interesting things?

* * *

AH, THAT'S a secret, but if you won't tell I'll let you in on it. Kay's mother told me herself. Yes, sir, she's visiting here from her home in Rocky Mount, N. C., and while James was out rehearsing a broadcast this afternoon I went up to see her. We talked for nearly an hour, and would you believe it, she has a broken arm. Yes, sir, she broke it just before she came to New York, but it's getting better now and she no longer carries it in a sling.

Well, we were talking about Kay and his orchestra and she told me that one night Howell—that's Kay's eldest brother, remember?—came to visit her, and they were listening to Kay on the radio, and when Kay's program was finished she reached right over and turned off the radio.

When she did this Howell asked 'What's the matter, Mother?'

And Mrs. Kyser told him: "But James' program is over."

Then Howell laughed and said, "Mother, I know this will be hard for you to believe, and it may come as something of a shock, but there are other orchestras on the air and, believe it or not, some of them are pretty good."

Well, sir, she laughed and laughed when she told me that, because, as she put it, "For me radio begins and ends with James."

* * *

DIDN'T you see James at all, Uncle Tuck?

No, I didn't, but I'll tell you who I did see. I saw Ulford Madison Maxwell Clemintine Riggsbee. That's his name but you just call him Mack. He's James' chef, chauffeur, valet, personal secretary and chaperone. He's been with Kay ever since he steamed out of Chapel Hill in Passion. Passion is a famous old Ford that probably belongs in the Smithsonian Institution, because it took James just about to every state in the union when he was beginning his career as an orchestra leader.

Where's Passion now, Uncle Tuck?

In Rocky Mount, Children, and there it'll stay. There have been other cars, and better ones, but none of these new stream-line whizzers is ever going to usurp old Passion's place in James' heart. No, sir.

And now, my tots, toddle off to bed. Uncle Tuck's got business. He's got to tune in on Kay Kyser's college of the air, and how can you pay attention to college with a bunch of kids hanging around asking questions?

Now what have you bought?

● IT'S AFTER DINNER, and I am enjoying the way my slippers feel, when Helen starts giving me this stuff about some kind of a winter protection guarantee for my car. "Helen," I say, "for the John's sake you know my expenses keep me broke as it is."

● BUT SHE TWITTERS on about its not costing a cent extra—and they guarantee your car will start all winter long. My patience starts to go, but I manage to tell her in a level voice that I don't give three hoots if it is free, it's probably a lot of trouble—

● BUT NO, it seems it's all done in a jiffy, when you get your regular winter oil and grease change-over, and they're very courteous and helpful about the whole thing. So I calm down a bit and muster up a sarcastic grin—"Who," I say, "is 'they'?"

● "THEY," SHE HUFFS, "are the Standard Oil Company. I just got Guaranteed Winter Starting for our car today, and I thought you might appreciate it." Well, that makes me feel sort of silly, so I ask what's it all about and she brings out this certificate—

● AND DARNED if it isn't a swell proposition. Don't see how they can afford it. Your car starts all winter—or Standard Oil pays your garage starting bill. It turns out they've been protecting people against starting worry and expense for two years. Why, every motorist in Ohio ought to get it!

You need the protection of Standard Oil's Guaranteed Winter Starting. It's your assurance against cranking or pushing a stalled car—or paying garage starting bills! For Standard Oil says: "If SOHIO products fail to start your motor—just send us the bill!" Your guarantee is free when you bring your car up to Standard on these points—gasoline, motor oil, battery, gear oil—and keep it there. Every day, more and more motorists are enjoying the security of this guarantee made possible by SOHIO'S famous products. Get your certificate today—and Laugh at Winter Driving Worries.

CHAPTER 23

When they had parked, and rented their suits and donned them, and met again down on the sand below the high stone sea wall, chill autumn air nipped at them. Peaches went "br-r-r-r" and snuggled up to Thornton's shoulder. "Golly, can't you hug anybody but Babs?" she demanded. "I'm freezing now."

Of course it was casual. Joking But Dr. Holgate blushed, even so. It did cause him to look closely at Peaches—and turn away because her feminine attraction was quite definite in a bathing suit, even a rented bathing suit She had a form. "Ah—yes! Yes, indeed!" He managed to speak, then, and actually put an arm around her shoulder. "Yes, ha ha It is chilly, isn't it? Shall we take the plunge?"

They raced for the water.

First there is 100 yards of it—too deep, ankle deep, knee deep, waist deep, on hard sand. Then for another 50 yards it is not over an adult's head. Beyond that is still gradual slope, where the bigger breakers cavort and play. At the edge of deep water one gets a sensation of being far far from shore, but is actually within a few feet of resting ground.

Only a dozen or so bathers were in sight anywhere in the three miles of visible shore line, because of the autumn chill. And yet the water itself was still warmer than Los Angeles or Coney Island ever know. In mid-summer some people say Galveston is too warm; the gulf balminess comes up from the Equator. Thornton Holgate expert swimmer, found it perfect today; he plunged into it with zest, swimming, exploring depths, blowing, slapping, diving through waves, reflecting that life can be good after all.

* * *

The party members split here and there, pairing, or going in singles. The waves were rather rough, toppling the unwary swimmers. Thornton saw a little girl, perhaps 12 years of age, on a mattress-like floater bobbing up and down on the water and shrieking. "Whee-e-e-e!" in the exhileration of it. She was paddling with her hands over the sides. She passed him, going out, when he was in the water neck deep. He glanced back, but no one appeared concerned "Whee-e-e-e-e!"

Peaches came up to him then, and they dived through a huge wave together, coming up spewing like human whales. It was zestful. It was good to be playing with a pretty girl. Happiness suffused Thornton Holgate. However could he have felt angry or hurt at Peaches for a bit of drinking the night before? Don't be a prude, Holgate! He felt like hollering with the freshmen and daringly did so.

"Let's ride a wave in," Peaches invited. "Dive with it, on top, as it strikes. We can ride it a long way."

It proved to be fun They rode one, then another, then another. The last one skidded them, amid much salty foam, almost to the feet of a woman in street clothes. And when he came out of the foam, he saw the woman was screaming.

"MY BABY — LOOK! She's gone! was thrown off her floater! Away out there!" A mother in hysteria.

They could see the bobbing float. And they caught one glimpse of the child, also bounding. Peaches and Thornton stared, appalled.

Sara Sue Davis was at home from the freshman dance at 3 a. m.

"It has been marvelous, Worthington!" she exclaimed, and meant it. "Your class has set a new record, everybody was saying."

Her escort beamed.

"And thank you again for the flowers, and for the delightful time. I am so glad you asked me. I don't know when I have had such a grand time." Sara Sue was gracious always. And grateful. Unlike some pretty girls, she did not just take courtesies for granted.

She went to bed rather quickly because she was tired. There were things she ought to do—bits of office bookkeeping and such — because she had neglected these on Saturday evening in order to dress her prettiest. Fat Cleo had assisted her, and had told her she looked like an angel. Cleo wasn't altogether wrong. But even angels (the earthly variety, that is) can be fatigued.

She was up at 10 o'clock, knowing she had a date at 10:40 When she had dressed and come into her semi-public living room, four or five collegians were already lounging there. Prominent among them was Bob Towne.

"Hi, you old roue," he greeted. "How's the belle of the ball, the dissipation damsel, the merry melodist, the—?"

"Good morning, Bob, and everybody!" She smiled. "How come you're up and out so soon?"

"The others didn't go. Me, I came to make love." Bob announced it calmly.

"Well, that's a laudable ambition, I'm sure," she remarked, saucily. "Anyway, it is being done, I hear."

"Luscious and lovely, I came to take you riding. Whenever you should wake up. Cleo said you had to sleep late, but now that you're out—"

"No," said Sara Sue.

"No what?"

"No sale. No riding with you."

"Nerts. Get your hat. We're leaving in five minutes."

"No, Bob. Thanks, no. Can't."

"Why?"

"Well—well, let's say I'm allergic to motoring. With you You hit cows and things. Remember?"

"Aw. Come on, Sara Sue Let's just go grab a cuppa coffee somewhere."

"Cleo just served me one And—well, to tell you the truth, I have a date right now. In a few minutes, at least."

"Date? That slime hanging around you this morning, too? I'll smack him all over—"

"You'll do nothing of the kind, Bob Towne, and you know it. Besides, it's not Worthington, it's Mr. Sanders. If you must pry!"

* * *

Bob was really surprised at that. Sanders. He knew Sanders was courting Sara Sue. He didn't blame the man for it, for Sara Sue was worth courting, surely. But—Sanders was an outsider. Not a student. Vaguely, Bob resented a non-student coming in to court Sara Sue, in competition with him and Worthington Gurley and the other Rice boys who wanted that privilege. He never gave a moment's thought to the significant fact that Sara Sue herself was not a student, and never had been!

"Phooey," mouthed Bob

"No. Sanders. Mr. T. J. Sanders You misunderstood." Sara Sue was bedeveling him a little. They play-fought a lot, in mutual understanding.

It was as if she had announced him formally, for at that moment T. J. rang her door bell She let him in herself.

"I'm almost ready," she told him. "Let me dab some rouge."

ARMS PLAN 1ST ON 'BIG MONEY' LIST FOR U. S.

Relief Funds of $800,000,000 Also in Requests Facing New Congress.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Administration requests for extra army and navy appropriations and for an additional relief fund which may run as high as $800,000,000 will be the first "big money" problems before the new congress.

Funds to operate the WPA until July 1 must be considered early in the session, because the current allotment may be exhausted by Feb. 15. The amount needed will depend on the size of relief rolls during the winter and spring, but WPA officials already are making preliminary estimates.

Congress also is expected to get an early start on the national defense program. Well-informed house members said today that the war department had submitted to the budget bureau an estimate "somewhere between $600,000,000 and $650,000,000" to run the army in the next fiscal year. This would be between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 above this year's total.

Highest Peace Level

President Roosevelt has indicated he would ask for a $150,000,000 increase for the navy, which got $546,000,000 this year.

Approval of the increases would send the appropriations for the armed services to their highest peace-time level.

While details were lacking as to how the additional funds would be spent, Mr. Roosevelt has indicated a substantial part of the increase for the army would go toward the projected expansion of the air corps.

One house member said the navy intended to concentrate at the coming session on winning approval for additional shore bases for the fleet and its air forces.

Discussion of the relief appropriation is expected to touch off a controversy over the best method of handling the WPA. A number of Republicans and anti-administration Democrats want state instead of federal control.

Some aids of Administrator Harry Hopkins said that if relief rolls continued above 3,000,000, the WPA would need about $185,000,000 a month from March to July.

A figure of $700,000,000 for the extra appropriation has been suggested by other federal experts, who believe improved business conditions will reduce the demand on WPA. These men point out that relief rolls dropped from a peak of 3,262,669 on Nov. 5, to 3,139,045 on Dec. 10 in the firm's employ, with a minimum bonus of $25 to be paid those employed previous to Sept. 30.

Workers whose employment started in October will be paid a flat bonus of $20; those hired in November $15, while all employed subsequent to Dec. 1 will receive $10.

Salaried employes will be paid a bonus of $25 except those hired after Sept. 30. Salaried workers whose services started in October will receive $20, those hired in November $15 while all employed subsequent to Dec. 1 will be paid $10 each.

In discussing the addition, Stephens said the management felt it necessary to provide additional capacity to the mill and calender room. The new building will provide approximately 40,000 square feet of manufacturing floor space.

"This space will be utilized for a new banbury, two 84-inch rubber mixing mills, and other modern equipment in the calender rooms," Stephens said.

A banbury machine is used for rubber mixing while rubber is applied to the fabric in the calender room.

He pointed out that practically all of the 283 men added to the company's payroll during the past year were residents of Mansfield and vicinity.

"This means that the Mansfield Tire & Rubber company has endeavored to do its part in absorbing as many as possible of the local unemployed," he said.

"Our policy always has been to hire former employes who were laid off, and then other unemployed men of Mansfield," Stephens added.

His letter to employes said that in addition to paying the bonus at this time, the company was moving up its Dec. 25 payroll date to Thursday, Dec. 22, "which means that employes will receive their next pay two days before Christmas."

"While we are, of course, affected by what general conditions may bring about next year," the letter continued, "we plan to continue our present five-day production schedule throughout the winter and spring months, and present indications seem favorable for our company to continue this schedule through the balance of the year."

The company distributes its products through wholesalers which policy was put into effect by Stephens 25 years ago. The company now sells more tires to wholesalers throughout the United States than all other tire manufacturers combined, Stephens added.

WPA ROLLS SHOW SHARP DECLINE

45,514 Off Public Jobs; 38 States Reveal Drop.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Works Progress administration reported today a 45,514 decrease in work relief enrollment during the week ended Dec. 10.

This, described by officials as one of the sharpest drops in recent WPA history, brought total rolls down to 3,139,045, a decrease of 123,624 from the all-time peak of 3,262,669 on Nov. 5.

All except 10 states shared in the downtrend. The largest decline was reported by Pennsylvania.

BEATEN, ROBBED

Mansfielder Tells Police He Was Hit on Head, Out $25.

John N. Grubaugh, 103 North Diamond street, was nursing a lump on his head today and was also out his billfold and $25.

Grubaugh was going through an alley at the rear of the National Ice company, East Fifth street, early last night, he told police, when he was slugged and robbed of his billfold.

He said his assailant apparently used a blunt instrument in striking him, sneaking up from behind as Grubaugh walked alone. He said he did not see the club wielder.

Grubaugh called police headquarters at 6:45 p. m. after he said he had lain unconscious for nearly a half hour.

SANITIZE SANTA

Jersey Authorities Order Clean Gloves; Ban Kiddies' Kisses.

NEWARK, N. J.—(AP)—Newark's street corner Santa Clauses were de-microbized today.

The health department sent out inspectors to see whether they had complied with orders to sterilize their detachable beards, stop kissing children and wear frequently-washed white gloves while shaking hands with them.

Mother, Mix Your Own Cough Remedy. It's Better

Quick, Comforting Relief. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

No matter what you might spend for medicine, you couldn't get quicker, better relief from coughs that start from colds than this simple home mixture gives. It takes but a moment to prepare—it's so easy a child could do it. And it saves real money.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Then you make a full pint of really splendid cough remedy and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time and children love its taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, you'll say it is truly wonderful. It has a remarkable action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a concentrated compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

DEFENDS TVA'S 'YARDSTICK' AS SOUND MEASURE

N. Y. Power Expert Declares Records Refute Claims of Hidden Subsidies.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—TVA's electric rate yardstick "offers a sound standard for private power companies in the region," Leland Olds, executive secretary of the New York State Power authority, told the TVA congressional investigating committee today.

A "star" witness for TVA, Olds' testimony was given in an effort to counteract the expressed opinion of executives of private utilities who charged that TVA's yardstick is "unsound" and designed to mislead federal authorities.

Olds said he based his conclusions on the records of 15 municipalities and 14 cooperative associations purchasing TVA wholesale power in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1938.

"These records," he added, "completely refute the claim that this yardstick reflects hidden subsidies. . . ."

He predicted that when TVA power is fully marketed through a combination of resale agencies "the present rate yardstick will be found higher than necessary for economic and efficient private operation."

Amply Covers Costs.

He added that "the wholesale power supply segment of the retail rate yardstick, as shown in the average price paid by the municipal and cooperative distribution systems for TVA power supply, is ample to cover the reasonable costs of private power supply in the region."

Olds stated further his study showed that TVA resale agencies sold 6,885,528 kilowatt-hours, while the average rate by private utilities for the United States as a whole was 3.1 cents, or double the average TVA rate.

Replying to the testimony of private utility heads, Olds said local and state utility regulatory bodies are unable to insure the public against "unfair" rates, and violations of public trusts.

"In general," he added, "the testimony before this investigatory body revealed that private utility corporations had succeeded in thwarting or evading the efforts of even the most active Public Service commissions.

"The private power interests contend that the public interest in electricity can be safely left to the protection of the various state regularity bodies, usually termed public service commission.

"In considering this point it should be noted that state regulation had its rise in the prewar period when electric power was essentially community enterprise. The entire era of inter-connection, presided over by far-flung holding companies, was still a decade ahead."

In view of his contentions, Olds said "the government has a responsibility to enable consumers of electricity in the Tennessee Valley region to purchase power at the rates which could be established by a low-cost competitor."

LORAIN JUDGE PRESIDES HERE

Hears Damage Action Filed by Prosecutor's Wife and Suit Filed by Minor.

Judge D. A. Cook of the Lorain county common pleas court will preside at trials of two damage suits in Richland county common pleas court Monday and Tuesday. Defense counsel in the cases asked that an out of the county judge be assigned to hear the actions.

Set for hearing before a jury Monday is a $4,500 damage suit filed by Mrs. Rhea Marriott, wife of County Prosecutor G. W. Marriott, against F. L. Tinkey and the Tinkey Lumber company, Mansfield.

Mrs. Marriott seeks damages for personal injuries and damages to her automobile as the result of a collision with the defendant's truck near her home in Woodland last February.

She will be represented by Prosecutor Marriott and Attys. Weldon and Huston. Attys. Beam and Beam will be counsel for the defendant.

In the other case, scheduled for Tuesday, Ralph Armstrong, 16, asks $15,040 damages for injuries he suffered in October, 1937, when he allegedly was knocked off his bicycle by a car driven by Paul Hassinger, Mansfield.

Armstrong, a minor, filed the action through Lloyd Armstrong, naming Hassinger as defendant.

Atty. Lewis Brucker and Prosecutor G. W. Marriott are counsel for Armstrong, while Attys. Weldon and Huston will defend Hassinger.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

VAN WERT—(AP)—Ed Roberts, 42, road employe, was crushed to death yesterday under a loaded sand truck.

OPERATE ON BOWED LEGS OF DAUGHTER OF MT. VERNON MUTE

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Little Annabelle Barton, the six-year-old girl who had lived almost all her life in one room with a mute mother until she was brought to children's hospital here a month ago, may have to go back to Mt. Vernon without even learning to talk.

One of Annabelle's bowed legs was operated on yesterday by Dr. E. H. Wilson on orders of Miss Mabel Smith, head of the state crippled children's bureau.

Until Annabelle was brought to the hospital on Nov. 16, she had never played with other children, had no knowledge of the world outside or of society other than that of her mother.

Annabelle's case was placed in the hands of the crippled children's bureau by the Knox county probate court.

"Annabelle is just like any of our other children," Miss Smith said. "There is nothing unusual about it. She is being treated just as any other child under our care."

Annabelle is to have an operation on her other bowed leg, but while she is convalescing from the first operation, she may be taken away from the hospital and returned to her family in Mt. Vernon, Miss Smith said.

Annabelle, because she had learned nothing of life, not even the ability to talk, from a mother who has been a mute from childhood, was being treated as a special case at Children's hospital.

Miss Marie K. Mason, speech expert from the department of phonetics at Ohio State university, has been working with Annabelle almost daily, trying to teach her the use of words.

Annabelle has learned to repeat about a dozen words, and to associate them with the objects they represent.

"But of course she could not be placed in a public school," Miss Mason said. "It would be sometime before she would be ready for that."

ARMOUR PLANT HIT BY BLAZE

Strike-Bound Meat Packing Concern Suffers $50,000 Loss.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Fire swept the strike-bound Brooklyn Armour and Co., meat packing plant today and caused an estimated $50,000 damage.

Flames temporarily threatened a half dozen other nearby meat packing plants but finally were extinguished. Authorities investigated the possibility of sabotage.

A strike against the Armour, Wilson, Swift and Cudahy packing concerns by meat handlers seeking higher wages and shorter hours has been in progress since Monday.

RIFT LOOMING

Pan-American Delegates See Signs of First Conflict.

LIMA, Peru — (AP) — The first signs of conflict in the Pan-American conference developed today over Mexican-Argentine proposals which in effect could involve manifold United States interests in the Americas.

Of marked importance in view of Mexican-United States controversies over Mexican expropriation of foreign oil and agricultural properties, the resolutions within limits would deprive foreigners of diplomatic protection from their home government and ban the collection of government debts through force.

While the 21 nations appeared proceeding toward full agreement in the need for common action against dangers of foreign incursion, no such easy course presented itself for the new resolutions.

CHAMBER SEEKS 'CIVIC AWARD' NOMINATIONS

Prepares to Present Honor for Outstanding Civic Work Achievement.

The Chamber of Commerce today called for nominations for candidates for its "civic award" to be presented at the annual dinner meeting which will be held sometime in January.

Paul W. Williams, secretary-manager of the chamber said that the public had been invited to nominate candidates for the award. He explained that either an individual or organiaztion could be nominated for their outstanding achievements in civic work.

The chamber made its first annual award last year, when it presented a plaque to the Liberty Park association for outstanding performance in developing the Liberty park recreation center.

Committee Named.

Williams said that a special committee had been named to handle the nominations and make the selection. Identities of committeemen and the candidates are to be held secret, until announcement of the award is made.

It was also announced today that E. H. Brown, sales manager at the Ohio Brass company, was elected last night to head the newly organized Richland county Advisory council.

F. H. Dudenhaver of the Shelby Sales Book company was named vice chairman by the group of Richland county businessmen who met at the chamber's assembly rooms last night.

The group was addressed by George O'Brien, director of organization relations of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, who presided at the meeting.

O'Brien outlined the organization's objectives which include plans for a campaign of information on Ohio financial status and legislative matters that involve additional taxes.

The next meeting of the group is scheduled to be held during January.

Claims Driver Too Friendly, Sues For $4,500 Damages

Accused of becoming too friendly on an automobile ride, William T. Wilkins, Mansfield, today had been named defendant in a $4,500 damage suit filed in common pleas court by Mrs. Pearl Rose, Mansfield.

In her petition, Mrs. Rose contends that Wilkins took his hands off the steering wheel to pull her closer to him while they were riding together last February, causing him to lose control of the car which went into a ditch, injuring her.

She received two fractured ribs, fracture of a bone in her shoulder and face injuries when the car careened off the road, Mrs. Rose's petition states. The accident occurred on North Main street road.

MASONIC YULE PARTY FRIDAY

Children of Mansfield Lodge to Be Feted at Temple.

The fourth annual Christmas party for children of members of Mansfield lodge No. 35, F. & A. M., will be held at 7 p. m. Friday, at the Masonic temple.

A program of motion pictures, a play and songs has been arranged for the evening. Gifts will be presented to the children, and John Grabler will act as master of ceremonies for the event.

The party will be chaperoned by officers of the lodge and their wives. T. G. Bigler is chairman in charge of arrangements for the affair.

GETS $150 FINE

Waldo Sneary, 31, of R. D. 3, Mansfield, was fined $150 and his operators license revoked for one year when he pleaded guilty in municipal court today to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. Unable to pay, he was taken to the county jail.

Charges were filed by Carl Clevenger, of Lexington, who brought Sneary to police headquarters at 2:15 a. m. today. He told police that Sneary had collided with his machine which was parked at 316 West Fourth street.

BRITAIN WARNS NAZIS ON POWER

Chamberlain Tells Germany British Riches Outweighs Her Arms Might.

made by Malcolm MacDonald, secretary of dominions and colonies, speculating on the possibility of disintegration of the British commonwealth of nations.

(MacDonald, speaking at the Constitutional club in London, was quoted as saying:

"Certain disintegrating forces are at work within the commonwealth today. There is no doubt that some dominions are badly bitten by nationalism. One can only speculate in speaking of the future. One possibility is that even our lifetime might see this great creation crumble and fall to pieces.")

Chamberlain, insisting that MacDonald's remarks had not been fully reported, declared that the complete speech was "a brilliant and statesmanlike exposition of MacDonald's firm faith that the empire will survive through cooperation together in whatever crises we might have to face."

Jews Pay $100,000,000 Toward Nazi Fine.

BERLIN—(AP)—The first of the four installment days on which German Jews must pay $400,000,000 tribute for the slaying of Ernst Vom Rath, Paris legation secretary, was a drab, matter-of-fact affair entirely lacking in drama.

Berlin banks had comparatively little to do with today's $100,000,000 as the Jews had taken pains to arrange all details so the payments would strike no snags.

There were no special guards at any of the finance ministry's offices where the fines were payable, nor were there any signs of disturbance.

Baldwin Backing Eden's Policies.

LONDON — (UP) — Earl Baldwin, regarded as the most influential conservative figure in Great Britain, is backing Anthony Eden's demand for a firmer foreign policy, it was understood today.

Baldwin was Neville Chamberlain's predecessor as prime minister. It was he who handled the abdication crisis, he who caused a world sensation when, as national leader, he announced that Great Britain's frontier henceforth was the German Rhine, not the English channel.

It was Baldwin who caused the German Nazi boycott of a banquet only Tuesday night at which Chamberlain criticized German newspapers for "heaping vituperation" on him—"the most respected of our statesmen."

Now, it was understood, Baldwin is quietly coaching Eden in the demand that the British government firm up its policy toward the dictator nations.

Baldwin has been careful, as a conservative personage, to avoid taking any open stand against Chamberlain. But his influence is great throughout the country, and his own quiet pressure combined with growing open opposition to Chamberlain's "appeasement" policy among liberals, laborites and dissident conservatives.

MASONIC LEADER DIES

DAYTON—(AP)—George L. Marshall, 77, boiler manufacturer here and prominent in Masonic circles, died today after a lengthy illness. He served as grand master of the Grand Lodge of Ohio Masons in 1915.

Yule Spirit Grips Store, Declares Business Holiday

In a novel Christmas greeting, the Cochran Paint store, 12-14 East Third street, today declared a business holiday until after Christmas and invited the public to view the huge Christmas tree and decorations in its showroom.

The store's complete stock of paints, enamels and varnishes was covered with holiday decorations and not an article will be sold until after Christmas, it was announced.

A 14-foot Christmas tree, colorfully decorated with lights and tinsel, is the center of attraction in the store's display. Colored floodlights bring out the tree's beauty, and a phonograph plays carols behind an attractive curtain back of the tree.

Two displays in the show windows represent Santa Claus driving his reindeer and sleigh through the ice-covered northland and the Three Wise Men watching the Christmas star over Bethlehem.

Lake Holds Body of Woman Killed as Auto Plunges

HUSBAND SAYS WAVES SWEPT WIFE TO DEATH

Clevelander Tells How Auto Skidded on Ice, Hurdled Curb Into Lake.

(By United Press)

CLEVELAND — While coast guards searched for the body of his wife, Walter Keleher, 41, told today how their car plunged into Lake Erie after skidding off Lake Shore Boulevard in Gordon park here.

Still dazed from the shock of seeing his wife swept out into the lake by eight-foot waves, his legs bruised and blue where the waves dashed him against rocks, Keleher told of the accident.

"We were going to a party at St. Patrick's Catholic church," he said. "I couldn't have been going more than about 25 miles an hour.

"As I passed East boulevard there were about 10 cars coming toward me and I saw the first one splash through some water where the waves were breaking over the boulevard. I put on my brakes and started to skid.

Collides With Auto.

"I struck the first car—a fender, I think, and the impact sent me skidding the other way. We struck the curb and went off over the side down onto the rocks.

"As the car tilted to one side the right door came open and my wife was flung into the water. Then the car was resting on its right side and I had to climb out through the window.

"A wave struck me and knocked me against the rocks. Then the backwash started carrying me out into the lake. The waves carried me in and out three or four times.

"I can't remember much after that, except I vaguely remember some men trying to get us out and thinking that they would be able to save us."

His daughters, Lucille, 13, and Sally, 10, sat in a corner weeping as the father talked.

After a search of several hours, police, firemen and coast guards gave up looking for Mrs. Keleher's body last night. Coast guards began the search again today.

The accident was blamed on ice which had formed beneath the water from spray of the waves that were breaking over the boulevard. After the accident traffic was cut off while the section was salted and cindered.

No Politics In Movie Job, Jimmy Roosevelt Says

CHICAGO—(INS)—With a denial that his new movie job had any political tie-up James Roosevelt, the president's eldest son, headed east today to get down to work.

Between trains from the west coast, young Roosevelt declared in a press interview in Chicago yesterday that he had been criticized in some quarters for accepting an executive position with the Samuel Goldwyn studios because of a pending government monopoly investigation of the film industry.

"I just want to say," he explained, "I am out of politics. I am going to work in the motion picture industry as a private citizen.

"My Goldwyn and myself happen to agree personally with the government's position in favor of separation of the producing companies from theater ownership and operation. The company with which I am associated is not named in any of the government's suits."

In commenting on the appointment of his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, as director of the insurance company of which he was formerly a partner, "Jimmy" was asked what her salary would be on the new job. He laughed:

"She'll be lucky if she gets carfare to and from the meetings. She'll simply sit in to watch over my interests."

INFANT GIRL DIES

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warren, 287 North Main street, died in the General hospital Wednesday. Funeral services will be held at the Wappner funeral home at 4 p. m. today with burial in the Mansfield cemetery.

'Gimp', Fighting Prison, Testifies Today

Up and Down THE STREET

The fiesta color theme, which has invaded a good many kitchens in Mansfield, seems to have influenced the stationery of the Chamber of Commerce. Bulletins that went out today were printed on bright orange paper and were encased in delphinium blue envelopes. The envelopes are new, with a large "Mansfield—Home of Nationally Known Products" on the side. The stationery wasn't designed for modesty, but at least it can't be overlooked.

Being liberal at Christmas time brings its reward, Louis Treneff found yesterday. The youth, who visits the courthouse offices every week, gave his customers there a free copy of a magazine he sells, tied with silver ribbon. A number of his patrons were so touched by the gesture that they gave him "tips" which were much more than the magazine price.

New signs located at the city limits of Delaware have created much comment from Mansfielders passing through on their way to Columbus. The sign reads: "Welcome to Delaware . . . except peddlers and agents."

County Engineer Howard Sword was the only person among the dozen or more city and county officials who met at the courthouse yesterday to discuss plans for the improvement of West Fourth street who had "no comment" to make. Sword has been confined to his home under a physician's care following an operation on his gums and was unable to talk, but he did a lot of listening because the group discussed the plans for nearly two hours.

CONSIDERS DEM

G. O. P. Expected to Endorse Lucas Registrar.

Mrs. Emma Chamberlain, a Democrat, probably will be endorsed by the county Republican organization for deputy registrar of motor vehicles at Lucas, Ralph Hardy, county Republican executive chairman, said today.

Mrs. Chamberlain has handled automobile tags in the Lucas area during the Davey administration. Hardy said the fact that her commission from the sale of license plates is the chief income for her family would figure in the recommendation for her re-appointment.

He said the central committee probably will make a recommendation for deputy registrar at Olivesburg within a few days. Endorsements for Mansfield and other towns in the county were made two weeks ago.

Governor-elect John W. Bricker will make the appointments, following the endorsements of the county Republican organization.

RYBOLT NAMED

SPEED INQUIRY IN DRUG FIRM

Federal Attorneys Indicate New Sensations Looming in McKesson Probe.

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK—Speeding probe of the $86,000,000 McKesson and Robbins drug firm into entirely new fields, the state department today was reported to be investigating startling disclosures which may have international ramifications.

The information which drew Washington into the inquiry is believed to have been unearthed by a federal grand jury, which may return three indictments before nightfall.

Officials refused to comment on the new development, but it was indicated the state department's end of the probe may produce revelations which will overshadow evidence gathered by agents of the United States attorney and state attorney general.

Officials have already investigated a statement by one drug firm official that McKesson and Robbins "may possibly have been in the alcohol business." An offshoot of that phase of the inquiry centered on traffic in arms and ammunition, it was declared.

Although the probe of the drug company has barely "skimmed the surface" since bankruptcy proceedings set in motion the investigating agents of county, state and nation, one development followed another today.

Approximately $18,000,000 of the firm's listed assets cannot be located.

Under the guidance of Assistant U. S. Attorneys Lester Dunigan and Irving Kaufman, the federal grand jury expected to question three new witnesses. Twelve more are under subpoena to appear before the same body tomorrow.

NEW SPECULATION FLARES ON GARNER'S VIEWS ON SPENDING

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Vice President Garner's imminent return to the capital renewed speculation today whether he will attempt next session to organize conservative Democrats into a legislative economy bloc.

He and Mrs. Garner will arrive Saturday and the vice president soon thereafter will join the parade of legislative leaders to the White House for conferences.

The vice president has been sharply critical of New Deal spending methods although his personal relations with Mr. Roosevelt, in whose cabinet he occupies an unofficial position, have remained friendly. On occasion, howoever, the veteran from Texas has let go to intimates bitter words of protest against some administration policies. And these hot words quickly circulate in Washington, considerably modifying the effect of a rule self-imposed by Garner that he will not discuss anything in public.

Advance reports on Garner emphasize that he will have not part in any anti-New Deal coalition with Republicans in this session of congress and few persons knowing his strong party feelings doubt the accuracy of that.

But Garner might find it compatible with party regularity to take a stronger hand next session in shaping legislative policy. It probably would have to be done, if at all, by organization of conservative congressional Democrats to bargain or negotiate with the New Deal wing of the party for compromise programs.

Most difficult on any such agenda would be organization of a numerically imposing group of congressmen entirely committed to material cuts in governmental costs.

Unless Garner or some congressional Democrat of more than ordinary stature undertook that task nothing would come of it, and there is no assurance of reduced spending even if Garner publicly assumed leadership of such a movement.

STRICKEN AT 91

R. N. Stewart, Retired Farmer, Lived Here 33 Years.

Robert Newton Stewart, 91, a retired farmer, died at his home, 378 South Main street, early today after a lingering illness.

Mr. Stewart, familiarly known to his friends as "R. N.," was born in Monroe township, March 21, 1847, and spent his entire life in this county. He came to this city 33 years ago when he retired.

Mr. Stewart and his wife, Sarah, who preceded him in death five years ago, were married 64 years. He was a member of the United Presbyterian church and served as elder for more than 25 years.

Surviving are a son, N. Dwight; two daughters, Maude and Mrs. John Day of Mansfield, and eight grandchildren.

Services will be held at the Finefrock funeral home at 2 p. m. Saturday with Rev. Henry Ford of the United Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. M. A. Eakin, officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. The body will be at the home until noon Saturday.

BRIEF ILLNESS PROVES FATAL

Miss Margaret A. Smaltz, 27, Dies In General Hospital.

Miss Margaret Alice Smaltz, 27, of 131½ South Franklin avenue, died in General hospital Wednesday after a brief illness. A resident of the city for six years, she was born in Tiffin, June 18, 1911.

Her father, B. F. Smaltz; two brothers, Norman and A. F. Smaltz of Mansfield, and two sisters, Genevieve and Selma of Alabama, survive. She was a member of the Park Avenue Baptist church.

Services will be held at the Finefrock funeral home at 1 p. m. Friday with Rev. Chester L. Kern of the South Main Evangelical church officiating. Burial will be in the Tiffin cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

RUTH ETTING'S EX-HUSBAND TO TELL OF SHOTS

State Closes Case Soon After Torch Singer Boards Plane to Elope With Alderman.

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES—Martin (the Gimp) Snyder, gambling his freedom against prison terms which may total 115 years, gets a chance today to tell his version of the shooting of Myrl Alderman, husky young pianist who replaced him as the husband of torch singer Ruth Etting.

Snyder, a dapper and familiar figure along the Rialto of New York and Chicago, sat solemn and emotionless in court while the songstress, object of his "deathless love" but now the bride of the man he is charged with trying to murder, accused him of wounding Alderman as the musician sat on a piano bench in his Hollywood Hills home last Oct. 15.

Daughter Opposes Him.

His mood deepened and he turned his head as his own daughter, Edith Snyder, 21, pictured him as a cursing intruder who threatened to kill not only Alderman, but Miss Etting and herself.

The prosecution's case was completed shortly after Alderman, 30, and Miss Etting, seven years his senior, eloped by plane yesterday to Las Vegas, Nev.

Cross-examination of prosecution witnesses pointed toward a plea of self-defense for Snyder by his attorney, Jerry Geisler. But Miss Etting, Miss Snyder and Alderman himself have denied that the musician was armed, although the blues singer admitted she kept a revolver in the bedroom of Alderman's home because of threats which Snyder telephoned to her from New York.

Minor witnesses closed the state's attempt to convict "the Gimp" of six felonies, two of kidnaping, three of attempted murder and one of possessing a gun with the numbers filed off.

Alderman and his bride of a few hours sat apart in the last row of the spectators' section during the afternoon session.

Coughlin's Political Ideas Strangely Like the Ones Hitler Used With Success

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—As to Father Coughlin's own political traits it may be recalled that in the 1936 presidential election campaign he aspired to the leadership of a great force, without form or organization, which would dominate the government of the United States. He was to be the leader of this force, a title which is the American equivalent of the Italian duce and the German fuehrer, without advisers or Democratic machinery.

He pointed out to this following that presidents of the United States often are obedient to the desires of those who put them in office—a true and harmless observation of itself but one of special interest as it came from him. He apparently meant that if his force acquired sufficient strength he, as sole spokesman and unquestioned boss of the group, would be the one to communicate the wishes which the president was desired to obey.

Inasmuch as there was no compulsion to consult his following about their desires, no provision to check Father Coughlin's interpretation of them, he was to be the infallible spokesman of those who put the president in office, and in the fulfillment of that plan the boss of the American president.

* * *

This was the campaign in which Father Coughlin called President Roosevelt a liar and double-crosser and spoke ominously of a resort to bullets instead of ballots. He is not often explicit, but his utterances suggested that if he achieved full power he would communicate to the president a popular desire that this country make war on Mexico.

In the course of the excitement, Father Coughlin's superior, Bishop Gallagher, remarked that the voice of Father Coughlin was the voice of God, but the good priest of the shrine of the Little Flower did not trade on this indorsement.

Father Coughlin's position on the question of freedom of speech, which recently has been agitated on its own behalf, was suggested by an incident during the Cleveland convention of the Old Folks' party. There Gomer Smith, of Oklahoma, was read out of the party for defending President Roosevelt against remarks by Father Coughlin which Mr. Smith regarded as insults to the president.

* * *

And in his discussion of labor organization, although he was vague, as he often is, Father Coughlin favored something like the Fascist labor front, to be controlled by the government and operated by the department of labor. Ostensibly such an organization would give labor a hand in the government, but in Italy and Germany the effect has been to deliver labor into the control of one man, and if Father Coughlin were to become the president's boss in the United States the position of labor in the government was something to be seriously pondered.

The government was to take over the duty of bargaining collectively for labor but, having driven bargains for labor, would require labor to keep the bargains. It was not made clear in just what circumstances Father Coughlin would favor a resort to bullets instead of ballots, but it seemed prudent to consider whether he would see justification for such a direct action in the event that some labor group refused to be bound by a government bargain on its behalf, particularly if it could be shouted up over the air from the Shrine of the Little Flower that the refusal was rebellion against the authority of the government and was led by atheistic communists.

* * *

The shapelessness, the lack of checks on the decisions and policies of the leader of the Coughlin force in politics would have conferred on him unquestionable authority to speak for the American people, the minority excepted. The minority, presumably, would have had to accept the will of the majority, embodied in one man—Father Coughlin.

And always there would be the question whether disobedience by a president to the desires of those who put him in office, as construed by a single individual claiming sole authority to speak for them, would be regarded as the final failure of the ballot.

Although Father Coughlin has denounced those whom he called the money changers, he himself has never discussed financial affairs in which he has been concerned. His method is to attack always, and a great taboo has hampered inquiry into the activities and serious examination of the political proposals of one who clothes himself in an immunity intended only for purely religious institutions.

Mussolini and Hitler found it effective to attack constantly, using half-truths, myths and complete vicious lies and not bothering to back-track and explain, apologize or admit honest error. They preferred to out-clamor those who challenged them in the name of justice, honesty and fact. In their countries it worked.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It can't matter much, as big things are reckoned in Hollywood, but the town seems to have unearthed a movie director.

I say it can't matter much because, after all these years, a great many movie fans can't tell you offhand who Cecil B. DeMille is. I asked a lady once, just to see, and she thought a while and finally came up brightly with the suggestion that C. B. was—was—let her see now—oh, yes, C. B. was one of Gloria Swanson's ex-es.

And getting that kind of guess on C. B., the town's most and longest ballyhooed director, I don't suppose the name of Garson Kanin would mean a thing.

But I'm going to write about him anyway. I think, as the years go on, Garson Kanin will be a name all fans will notice, just as they've finally begun to talk about a "Capra picture" instead of about the stars who play in it.

You can put him down right now as a man to remember—which ought to make it easy because he's the lad who directed "A Man to Remember," one of the year's finest even if it didn't cost a mint.

* * *

It's rather a shock, meeting this Kanin for the first time. He's so young he's bashful about his age. He claims 26 years (had a birthday Thanksgiving) but you'd guess, first glance, about 23. He's slight, thin-faced, pink-cheeked, slightly baldish over the high forehead, and he looks, acts and laughs like a boy. In fact, when he directs the youngsters in "The Great Man Votes," he gives the impression that he might, very easily, take one of their roles and get by with it. Maybe that's how he gets the results he does. They give for him, and they don't "act." It might also be because he knows what he's doing, whether he's directing John Barrymore or Peter Holden or Virginia Weidler.

Kanin was brought west a year and a half ago by Sam Goldwyn. For eight months Kanin sat in a sumptuous office at Goldwyn's studio, attended by two secretaries, and did nothing. Goldwyn thought of him as a producer, called him "Thalberg" and urged him to wait for his opportunity. Just short of the padded cell division, Kanin decided he had to quit.

"In my poor deluded fashion," he pleaded with Sam, "I like to think of myself as something of an artist. I don't want to be a producer—I don't know business. I want to direct."

* * *

Eventually Sam relented Kanin went to RKO, shortly was given "A Man to Remember." In 15 days he had it done for $119,000, synonymous with chicken-feed in a big studio. Everybody was surprised. He tackled another quick one, "Next Time I Marry," and then the reward came—"The Great Man Votes" is a "special," with a 35-day schedule and plenty of money invested.

Kanin used to be an actor. On Broadway he was in such hits as "Three Men on a Horse" and "Boy Meets Girl." He gave up acting when George Abbott, his mentor and still his best friend, told him he shouldn't play in "Brother Rat."

"If Abbott doesn't see me as an actor, maybe I'm not one," he decided—and thereupon became a director. He stuck by the decision when Abbott later wanted him for "Room Service."

BUSINESS WOMEN HAVE GUEST DINNER PARTY

Members of Organization Offer Musical Selections; Pupils of Marguerite Speas Appear In Dance Revue.

THE spirit of the holidays really emanated from the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel when members of the Business and Professional Women's club gave their guests a Christmas gift of a dinner and program of music and dancing. After the short business meeting the 75 members and guests sang carols.

Decorations were colorful and appropriate including a Santa Claus with the traditional reindeer with rows of lighted tapers on the tables.

Miss Marguerite Speas presented a dance revue including a number of her pupils. A tap routine opened the program with Mary Nanich, Ruth Wymer, Demetra Phillips and Anne McCormick participating. Robert Schrack offered a military number after which Jerry Brightbill gave an accordion solo and tap dance.

Other Dances.

An acrobatic number was offered by Joyce Payton, and Martha Metcalf gave a toe tap following which Jean Schill presented an eccentric dance. Other participants from the Speas studio included Teddy Adkison in "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "Small Fry" with Teddy and Tony Brucato; "Little Girl With a Muff" starring Rosemary Bauer, and Teddy concluded the program with "That's What I Want for Christmas."

Eleanor Stone Smith sang "O, Holy Night," by Adams, and Miss Thelma Reed played two piano selections, "Sonata," by Beethoven, and "Minuet," by Kirkridge.

Those members of the club who arranged the program were Dorothy Landers, Wilhelmene Cahall, Lillian Davis, Virginia Dye, Ruth Wiseman, Jennie Konrad and Lottie Miller arranged for the dinner.

Members will meet again Jan. 11. The committee in charge includes Althea Lorentz, Florence Young, Annabel Shanibarger, Loretta Zellers, Helen Stuhldreher, Marie Kalbfleisch and Mayme Schweir.

Mrs. Cora Maxwell, South Mulberry street, gave a dinner Tuesday at 6 o'clock for members of the Navajo club. Two tables of hearts were in play during the evening, and prizes were won by Mrs. Margarita Wolf and Miss Orpha Burns. Mrs. Ada Lurz is planning a Christmas dinner of the group at her home on Harker street, Dec. 19, when there will be an exchange of gifts.

Coming Holidays Bring News About College Students

Colleges and universities throughout the country are in the usual pre-Christmas hub-bub, and Mansfield is catching some of the spirit these days as the younger set starts descending upon the city from a number of alma maters.

Saturday will see Miss Carolyn Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Wolf, 597 Park avenue west, and John Hammer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Hammer, 872 Dickson parkway, and Thomas Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Maxwell, 89 West Second street, all coming up (or is it down?) from Denison university at Granville.

That famous oratorio, Handel's memorable "Messiah" is being given at DePauw university at Greencastle, Ind. this Sunday, and Miss Willa Hollingshead, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Hollingshead, 16 Glenwood boulevard, will be singing in the chorus. Presentation of "The Messiah" is a tradition up DePauw way, and the oratorio is being sung by 150 with an orchestra of 65 pieces provided the instrumental background.

Another returner to Mansfield is Miss Marion Grudier, daughter of Mrs. Helen Grudier, 390 Marion avenue. She is a student in the School of Journalism at Syracuse university at Syracuse, N. Y.

DRESS DOLLS.

When 13 members of the Fortnight club met Tuesday evening, they dressed dolls to be given as Christmas gifts to Mansfield children. The Misses Emma Waring and Margaret West were hostesses for the dinner meeting at the Women's Club. Miss Florence Sloane will entertain the group at her home on Church court on Jan. 17.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Plan Dinner For Husbands Dec. 28 at Hotel

Journey Club Members to Entertain at Party; Conduct Session.

JOURNEY CLUB members devote most of the club year to studying some specific subject, but on Dec. 28 they are planning to take a vacation from their study of England and entertain their husbands at a dinner-bridge party in the Chinese room of the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Final arrangements for the affair were made Wednesday for the party.

During the business meeting a voluntary contribution of cash was presented to the Mothers Home circle for aiding a family. There were 15 members and two guests, Mrs. Cloyd Hines and Mrs. Herman Siegenthaler, present at the session.

"Queen Victoria" was the title of a paper presented by Mrs. Emerson Weller when Mrs. W. J. Spreng, Park avenue west, entertained. The speaker told of the early life, coronation, marriage and later experiences of the British queen.

Tea was served in the dining room to members from a table decorated with a large Christmas candle set in a bed of berries, branches and holly. Mrs. Neil Remy and Mrs. Anna Miller poured.

Kathleen Sturges Hostess To Club

At the meeting of the Philomathian club last night at the home of Miss Kathleen Sturges, Overlook road, Mrs. Otis Cummins spoke on "Motion Picture Research." She told of the numbers of people who attend movies, the subject matter of the pictures, clothes worn and the element of romance in films.

There were 18 members and one guest, Mrs. Harry May, present. Green Christmas tree balls and red candles decorated the table which was presided over by Miss Katherine Hartman. The next meeting will be Jan. 11 with Miss Hartman, 561 Park avenue west. A Christmas party will be held Dec. 21 at the home of Mrs. Paul Stephens, Shepherd road.

Members of the committee in charge are Miss Ardis Linzee, Mrs. Lewis Hartman and Mrs. Tom Ford.

Eureka Birthday Club Has Luncheon Session

Mrs. Daisy Keith entertained members of the Eureka Birthday club with a 1 o'clock luncheon at her home on North Mulberry street yesterday. One guest, Mrs. Stella Nafus was present for the Christmas party.

Five hundred was in play during the afternoon, and the high score prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Remy and Mrs. James Burneson. Mrs. Daisy Klinefelter was in charge of the business meeting, when the club members gave donations and filled several Christmas baskets.

Mrs. Helen Gresmer has invited the club to her home on Louise avenue for a luncheon Jan. 11.

* * *

CHRISTMAS PARTY.

There will be a Christmas party, gift exchange and election of officers for members of the Amoma class of the Park Avenue Baptist church Friday evening at the home of Mrs. D. C. Cole, 228 Venum avenue.

For the girl who takes most of her snow sports on the sidelines, a designer made this warm jacket of brown, beige and green plaid wool. The leather-bound snow-glasses bow out in front.

Esther Class Entertained By Mrs. C. R. Ladd Yesterday

DEVOTIONS were led by Mrs. Lial Ish yesterday when members of the Esther class of the Mayflower Congregational church held their regular meeting and Christmas party at the home of Mrs. C. R. Ladd, 123 Grant street. She was assisted by Mrs. Dan Edwards and Mrs. Carl Stough, president, who conducted the business meeting and also read a story.

Members sang carols, and a Christmas exchange preceded the contests, which were won by Mrs. L. H. Edwards and Mrs. Steve Jocha. The class presented a gift to Mrs. J. R. Heilman for the work she has done for the class.

Refreshments were served, and it was announced that the next meeting will be Jan. 11 with Mrs. Mary Dinges, 387 Springmill street, as hostess, and Mrs. Albert Frank assisting.

Women Consider Auxiliary For Coming Season

Prospect Park Association Has Holiday Dinner For Members.

TENTATIVE plans for the organization of a Ladies auxiliary were made last night at the Christmas meeting of the Prospect Park association at the pavilion. Arrangements were made to start meetings after the first of the year. Those in charge are Mrs. Lowell Moore, Mrs. Gilbert Logan, Mrs. Roy Stickler, Mrs. Joseph Reifenberg and Mrs. Wilmar Flegal.

Dinner was served to members and guests last night at long tables attractively decorated with Christmas appointments, candles and individual favors. Members of the committee in charge were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Uplinger, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frank and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sheets.

Bridge awards were presented to Charles Payne and Mrs. Forest Cleland, and the five hundred prizes were presented to Mrs. Elmer Snavely and Ted Daugherty.

The association will meet Jan. 18 at the pavilion with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Daugherty, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Snavely, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Farst in charge. The card tournament for the men of the association opens at the pavilion Jan. 9.

* * *

The Staiger tea room was the scene of a Christmas dinner and gift exchange yesterday afternoon for members of the Nancy Nell club. Mrs. Floyd Schneider was in charge of contests and awarded the prizes to Mrs. Glenn Pore, Mrs. LeRoy Stoner, Mrs. J. C. Boyer, and Mrs. David Buell. Mrs. Pore, 7 Hammond avenue, will have the next meeting on Jan. 11.

Mrs. Glattke Hostess For Student Club Holiday Party

A CHRISTMAS party was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Glattke, Ohio State reformatory, for 20 members of the Student club yesterday evening. Associate hostesses for the affair were Mrs. John Bissman and Mrs. Earl Schaub.

The group had a Christmas exchange and then played bridge. Mrs. L. L. Wenger, Mrs. M. L. Smith and Miss Josephine Bushnell were recipients of high score prizes for the evening.

Refreshments were served at one long table which was attractively decorated with festive appointments. At each corner of a mirror in the center of the table, there were blue and silver bells, from which red satin ribbons extended to the center of the glass. Both the mirror and bells were placed in a circle of white angel's hair.

Mrs. Keith Miller, Chevy Chase road, will be hostess for the meeting on Jan. 11, when Miss Josephine Bushnell will conduct a discussion on insanity.

Church Parlors Scene of Dinner.

A covered-dish dinner was served in the church parlors yesterday to members of the Amoma class of St. Matthew's Lutheran church. Hostesses were Mrs. Pearl Perrine, Miss Fairy Vermilya, Mrs. Merl Pittinger, and Mrs. Verne Lipscombe.

Members held a short business meeting and contests were conducted before the Christmas exchange which was conducted by a Santa Claus. There were 23 in attendance. The next meeting will be Jan. 17 with Mrs. F. Schmid, Mrs. O. H. Redhair and Mrs. Lyman Moore as hostesses.

Elect Officers Of Relief Corps At Memorial Hall

Officers who will be installed Dec. 28 in the Memorial building were elected last night by members of the McLaughlin Relief corps No. 26 in the hall. Mrs. Clarence Beelman took charge of the meeting during which ritualistic and routine business was conducted.

After the charter was draped for Mrs. Olive Drumm and Mrs. Mary Wilson, past department president of Ohio, the officers were named.

Mrs. Harry Constance is the president; Mrs. Charles Edmonstone, senior vice president; Mrs. T. M. Case, junior vice president; Miss Mary Beilstein, treasurer; Mrs. Bessie Buchan, chaplain; Mrs. Anna Butts, conductress; Mrs. Pauline Somers, guard; Mrs. Faye Stofer, delegate and Mrs. Case, alternate.

Members sang carols and a gift exchange was held. Luncheon was served and the contest winners were Mrs. Butts and Mrs. Bessie Bell.

HAVE DINNER.

Fourteen members, six of their husbands, and two guests were present for the Christmas party and dinner of the Art Study club last evening at the home of Mrs. Louis Sowash on Park avenue west. The guests were Mrs. James Hostetter of Ashland and Mrs. Rudd of Columbus. During the meeting, several Christmas stories were told by the club members, and later there was a gift exchange. On Dec. 28, Mrs. Will Fendrick will entertain the club at her home, 419 West Fourth street.

Capsule Friends Party Event Of U. P. Bible Class

A capsule friends party was an event of yesterday evening for members of the Findley-Anderson Bible class of the United Presbyterian church and their friends. The group met for a covered-dish dinner at the church, which was decorated in keeping with the holiday season.

Mrs. W. W. Webb was in charge of the Christmas program with music and songs. She played the accompaniment for Miss Doris Ranck, who sang the solo, "Birth of Christ." Mrs. Rowland Miller read a poem, "Father Time's Bargains," by Richard Maxwell to the group. The program was concluded with the reading of a Christmas story by Miss Hazel Manner.

After the program and business meeting, which was conducted by Mrs. William Druschel, there was an exchange of Christmas gifts between the class members.

Mrs. R. D. Anderson has invited the class to her home on Western avenue for the next meeting, Jan. 4. Mrs. Thomas Bell and Mrs. Maude Blakeley will be the associate hostess at that time.

Members, Guests Play Cards at Phipps Home

Mrs. Nellie Phipps was hostess to members of the Entre Nous club at her home on Hedges street yesterday. Fourteen members and two guests, the Misses Rosemary Altaffer and Roberta Phipps were in attendance.

Mrs. Ida Crooton conducted the business meeting, after which the group played five hundred. Score prizes for the afternoon were won by Mrs. Kate Hannan and Mrs. Kate Henry. Mrs. Phipps served refreshments at the small tables, and later the members had a Christmas exchange of gifts. Mrs. Rose Berry, South Adams street will entertain the club on Jan. 18.

Serve Dinner to Class at Charles Home.

Those who assisted Mrs. Tracy Charles, Davis road, yesterday entertain members of the Catherine VanBora class of First Lutheran church were Mrs. Burke Baer, Mrs. Walter Fike, Miss Dorothy Herring, and Mrs. Ralph Hartline. Dinner was served to the members at small tables arranged in the recreation room.

A Christmas tree, pine and candles formed the decorative background. Mrs. James Funk gave a Christmas reading for the class, and a gift exchange was conducted.

Prize winners were Mrs. George Brightbill and Mrs. Dimon Herring. The next meeting will be Jan. 11 at the Parish house.

"Rebuilding Palestine" Topic for Discussion

"The Rebuilding of Palestine" was the subject of a talk given by Mrs. B. F. LaFevre at the regular meeting of the Good Cheer circle of the South Main Evangelical church last evening at the home of Mrs. Roy Lucas, Ohio street. Twenty-five members of the class were present for the exchange of Christmas gifts.

During the program, Mrs. L. C. Hughes told of Christmas customs in many lands. Later in the evening, Mrs. Lucas, with her associate hostesses, Mrs. L. F. Winkle and Mrs. Hughes, served a buffet luncheon. The class is planning a covered-dish dinner at the church on Jan. 11.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

Timely Warning for Every One to Heed.

Don't get so busy doing your Christmas shopping that you will neglect the cold which you are very likely to take in the overheated, crowded stores. Remember that neglected colds may lead to more serious sickness.

Some dependable treatment should be selected. For 84 years, Father John's Medicine has been in use as a treatment for colds and coughs due to colds. It helps to build up your resistance so that you are better able to fight off colds and other germ infections.

Strong proof of the value and merit of Father John's Medicine is its record of 84 years of success and the recommendation of those who have used it. What could be more convincing?

A handkerchief shower was given for Mrs. E. C. Fuller and Mrs. Harold Garn. The next meeting of the club will be Jan. 11 with Mrs. Lowell Shuey, North Main street.

* * *

Prizewinners in the contests held by the May-Be club members yesterday were Mrs. Hugh Sturgeon and Mrs. Larry Powell. The hostess was Mrs. Fred Willis, 69 Penn avenue. A buffet luncheon was served from a table decorated with Christmas appointments, a lighted tree and white candles. A gift exchange followed. Mrs. Carl Willis was a guest of the club. The next meeting will be Jan. 4 with Mrs. Wendel Brown, 129 Chilton avenue.

PASSES EXAMS

BUCYRUS — Glenn Pickering, son of Mrs. Emma Pickering, East Mansfield street, has passed the state board examination in embalming and is now associated with the Munz Furniture and Undertaking establishment, it was announced today.

Pickering took his training in the Cleveland School of Embalming and completed his course in November. He is a graduate of Bucyrus high school.

Lady Samaritan Club Welcomes New Member

A new member, Mrs. D. C. Jenkins, was welcomed into the Lady Samaritans club yesterday afternoon when the group met for a covered dish luncheon at North Lake park pavilion. One guest, Mrs. John Conant, and 14 members were also present.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. C. C. Constance, Mrs. Ulah Cassidy, and Mrs. Elizabeth Conant. During the afternoon the women made a comfort and some infants' clothing. Mrs. Bertie Hartenfels, Mrs. Jennie Donnan, and Mrs. Elizabeth Guenther will entertain the club at the park pavilion on Jan. 11.

Lutheran Class Meets At House

The King's Beacon class of the First Lutheran church met in the parish house of the church yesterday evening for a covered-dish dinner. Mrs. Warren White and Miss Esther Shade were hostesses for the meeting, which was attended by 15 members and one guest, Miss Marylin Bell.

Mrs. Grace Pollock conducted the business meeting, and later the group played contests, with Misses Bertha Leibhart and Mable Blackman and Mrs. Clayton Bell, receiving the prizes. At the conclusion of the meeting, the group had a Christmas exchange.

There will not be another meeting of the class until Feb. 8, when Miss Blackman, Mrs. Gretchen Bringham, and Mrs. Ida Baxter will be in charge of a covered-dish dinner at the parish house.

HAVE EXCHANGE.

Mrs. Carl Horschler, Lexington avenue road, was hostess yesterday to members of the Fortnightly Thimble club when they held a Christmas party and gift exchange. A tree and candles were used for decoration. Mrs. Harold Goetz, South Main street, will entertain Jan. 11.

Present Play, Music Before Sappho Club

Mrs. Paul Eliot Reads as Three Others Illustrate With Carols.

SAPPHO club members met at the Women's Club yesterday for their Christmas program, and Mrs. Paul Eliot, assisted by Mrs. Robert Barker, Mrs. Claude Ewing and Mrs. L. S. Houk presented a play. It was entitled "Christmas Day in the Morning" by Grace Richmond.

Mrs. Ewing, Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Houk formed a vocal and instrumental trio, and presented illustrative carols throughout the reading of the play by Mrs. Eliot. Guests of the club were Mrs. Elizabeth Tiel and Mrs. Roth.

Gifts were assembled for presenting to the kindergarden children at the Friendly House, and a contribution of canned goods was made to the Three Musketeers.

Mrs. J. G. Wallace was hostess for the program yesterday. The next meeting of the organization will be Jan. 11 at the club. This will be a luncheon with Miss Helen Hartman, Mrs. E. C. Jenkins, Mrs. J. M. Johnston, Mrs. A. A. Middleton and Mrs. Lillian Pauley as hostesses.

The program will be in charge of Mrs. Pauley, Mrs. T. D. Brown, Mrs. Eugene Renwick and Mrs. J. H. Finefrock.

Entertain Guests of Star Class.

Mrs. E. B. Keller assisted by Mrs. Fred Black entertained 19 members and three guests of the Star class of the United Brethren church at her home on East First street yesterday. The guests were the Misses Margene and Joan Blank and Beamer. A gift exchange was held, and the next meeting was set for Jan. 11 at the home of Mrs. G. H. Fisher, Willow street.

Dall To Wed Again Today

Curtis Dall, former husband of the present Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, daughter of the president, and his bride-to-be, Katharine Miller Leas, are shown at her home in Haverford, Pa.

Mrs. Pat Calangelo, West Sixth street, was hostess for the Christmas party and gift exchange of the Cyane club yesterday. Hearts and bridge were played and the Misses Viola Fulmer and Helen Stuhldreher were winners. A tree and red and white appointments were used for decorations. Plans were made for a progressive party Dec. 27 and a theater party with Miss Fulmer on Jan. 10.

Charity Band Makes Clothes At Meeting

Mrs. Gross Entertains 21 At Her Home; Story of Nativity Read.

ASSISTED by Mrs. Charles Bonnett, Mrs. Della Richardson and Mrs. Milton Selby, Mrs. W. L. Gross entertained 21 members of the Matlock Charity band at her home on Dawson avenue yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Maude Hoover was a guest for the meeting.

Mrs. Margaret Turner led the afternoon's devotions with the reading of a story of the nativity of Christ. Mrs. Richardson led the group in prayer, after which Mrs. Henry Bronkar gave a story by Mary Moncure Parker entitled "Gentleman Jim."

The women spent the afternoon packing Christmas baskets and making clothes. Mrs. Susan Wheaton, president of the band, conducted the business meeting and also gave a talk on "The Great Need for Welfare Work." At the close of this meeting, the hostesses served a buffet luncheon.

The next meeting of the organization will be held at the home of Mrs. H. H. Beelman, 162 West First street, on Jan. 11. The associate hostesses that day will be Mrs. Charles Green, Mrs. Charles Balantine and Mrs. Delpha Ingmand.

Loves Older Suitor

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I'm 17 years of age and in love with a man of 21. I went with his younger brother for a time, and through him met the older man. He comes over and takes me out about once a week. I'm sure I'm in love with him, and I believe he cares for me too. Both these boys give me books and take me to the movies. My mother prefers the older man to his younger brother. Help me to decide

MADGE.

An older man, who takes you to good shows and gives you books sounds alright to me. But, my dear, 17 is pretty young for you to take this friendship too seriously. You haven't told me why your mother objects to the younger brother.

• • •

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I know you can help me as you have helped others. My boy friend and I have been going "steady" for almost seven months. When we first started going together, we never thought of love, but intended to be just good pals. And now we're in love and can't marry because he's still in school, and it will be several years before he can take care of me.

Please give me some good advice. Would you suggest that I wait three or four or maybe more years, or shall I give him up entirely? I'm quite old—almost 22. No matter what I do, I'm sure I'll always love only him.

TWENTY.

Goodness, what an old lady—almost 22. Don't you know, dear child, that 25 or 26 is considered by many as the ideal age for a girl to marry. I think you're very fortunate to be in love with a young man who has ambition and is working for a career.

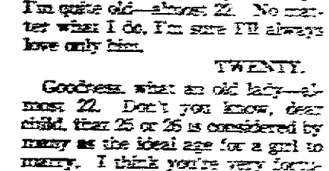
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T BE PIG-HEADED

PIG-HEADEDNESS probably shows itself more in the defense against no trump contracts than in any other phase of bridge. Many a pair, once having led a certain long suit, can not make themselves switch their tactics until the suit is all gone. Careful observation of developments can reveal every once in a while, the advisability of a shift when it has become apparent that the original plan probably will not work.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable).

After an opening spade bid on this deal by South, North went to 2-Clubs, South to 2-No Trump and North to 3-No Trump.

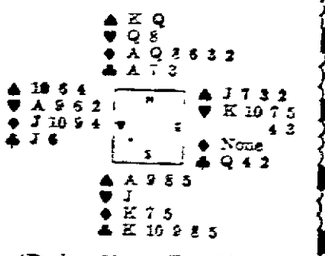
West started the defense by leading the club 4, which South won with the A. He then attempted to set up his hearts by leading the 3 to the 9. East took this trick with his Q and returned a club to North's Q. Declarer then played the heart K to West's A.

West then made the mistake of continuing his clubs and the declarer had no difficulty in making his game with three spades, three clubs, two hearts and one diamond.

A switch by West to a diamond at the fifth trick would have meant defeat for declarer. The opening bid had been a spade, so that suit was protected. declarer tried to set up hearts and the clubs were safely taken care of so that the only hope for West was the lead of the diamond Q or 10.

• • •

Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable).

What defense by West sets South's contract of 3-Clubs?

Common Sense About Constipation

If you knew that your constipation was caused by something left out of your food wouldn't it be just common sense to put that something back?

Your trouble may be caused by nothing more than this. For the most common kind of constipation is due to lack of "bulk" in the bowels—you need some food that passes on through the stomach without being digested. Kellogg's All-Bran supplies this. It gives the bowels the bulky mass they need to work properly. And All-Bran also gives them the intestinal-tonic, vitamin B1, which helps restore their tone.

Eat All-Bran as a cereal or baked in muffins. But however you eat it, be sure you get some every day. And drink plenty of water. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer

Brandy Sauce

If you want to make brandy sauce substitute one-fourth of a cup of brandy for the amount of liquid called for in the recipe. But add the brandy after the sauce has been cooked. Mix well and serve hot or cold.

Crunchy Pudding

For a novel pudding, try adding half a cup of crushed macaroon crumbs to a cup and a half of lemon sauce. The macaroons give a desired "crunch."

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

Mary heaved a faint "Auntie Madge" and Noel essayed an equally stifled "Bon please." But I paid no attention to either of them. When I was safely inside my room, I closed and locked the door with audible emphasis. Then I sank into the nearest chair and rested my razor against Noel upon the innocent surrounding air.

I was so fatigued that I fell asleep almost immediately, and slept straight through the three hours I had named to Mary. Indeed, I did not awaken until I heard her light but insistent knocking upon my door.

"Yes, just a second," I called, and when I unlocked the door, I admitted a lovely and radiant vision who caught me in her arms and hugged me ecstatically.

She's "Lion Tamer."

"Well, fairy godmother!" she carolled. "You certainly are a lion tamer, as well as the goddess of the machine, and all the rest of it. Noel, poor lamb! is as meek as one, and oh! so remorseful for 'acting up.' He wants to know if you won't please join us at dinner to show you've no hard feelings toward him."

"What nonsense!" I exclaimed, fastening my negligee and donning my mules. "Call Noel in here and I'll prove to him the absolute rightness of my preference to eat alone. And when you get him in here, you—what is it you say?—'peel it!'"

She laughed merrily as she turned obediently toward the door.

"Yes, she really wants to see you by yourself," she said finally, with a touch of impatience, and the next second Noel, plainly diffident, came slowly through the door, which Mary promptly slam after him.

"Sit down, Noel," I said quickly, and then put up a protesting hand as he broke into stammering apologies for the surprise attack with which he had greeted Mary.

"Please! I don't want to hear a word," I told him, smiling. "You've made your peace with Mary, I can see, and that's all that matters. I was not in the least offended"—I fibbed stoutly, "had no slightest reason to be. What I want to talk to you now is about dinner. Don't you realize that the reason I have planned this reunion is to give you two all the time alone together you can possibly have? I fully appreciate your being polite, but please remember this is a sort of honeymoon, and honeymoon meals are supposed to be eaten by two, not three. Besides, I've selfishly set my heart upon having my dinner on a tray propped up in bed with the latest magazines strewn around where I can pick them up or throw them down as I wish, and read while I eat. I'm going to be gloriously lazy tonight, and for every other meal I eat here. It is a chance I don't often get, and I'm not going to let anything interfere with it."

Noel smiled indulgently, and I wondered if I imagined that I saw a sudden, suspicious look in his eyes.

"It shall be as you wish, of course," he said, "and Mary and I are much in your debt. But—you say you are going to be gloriously lazy at meal time. Do you mean that you can't rest other times also?"

Wash Your Face, It's Good for It

By MME. QUI VIVE

Feminine faces are improving in appearance all the time.

Creams are used as cleaners, not in conjunction with soap and water. Only the dear old ones fear soap any more. There was a time when cleansing oils were used by many, faces being held too sacred to come in contact with soap suds. Now we know that nothing take the place of a live, cracking lather.

• • •

The girl who goes to bed with her face unwashed can expect no sympathy from teacher when she begins to bawl and bellow about blackheads. To ignore complexion hygiene is to be beset with dust-clogged pores, eruptions, a muddy or pasty looking skin surface. All cleansing agents — soap suds, meals, oils, do triple duty; they cleanse, have a tonic effect, stimulate the blood streams. Every face washing, properly achieved, is a beauty treatment.

How do you go about your facial renovation? Do you dip the cloth in warm water, pass it over the bar of soap give your countenance a few swishes? You can't get far with that method. It is not thorough. You don't do a good job.

• • •

Don't forget, you quick workers, that when you wash your pretty pair you are combating oil and dust. The pores are constantly exuding an oily vapor and salty moisture which reach out for atmospheric dust. And to this a layer of powder which must catch a certain amount of atmospheric filth. The rouge pad may not be any too clean. Use your head and lots of energy.

Use plenty of water, plenty of soap, plenty of gentle friction. If there are signs of budding blackheads, hold a hot moist washcloth to your face. Rinse with tepid water, dry gently, apply cold cream, rubbing it in with upward outward strokes.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, December 16.

A day of great opportunity and progress is forecast from the prevailing planetary influences. There should be fine openings for the attainment of high ambitions, made possible by the friendly and liberal co-operation of those of prestige and important place or authority. It is a time for planning major objectives with assurance and determination.

Those whose birthday it is are on the brink of a year of important opportunity for advancement, enhanced prestige, popularity and the attainment of high goals and ambitions. Personal contacts and preferment of those in place and power may be counted upon for reaching such objectives.

A child born on this day may be capable, versatile and ambitious. It is likely to reach high place and prosperity through its personal worth and dignified and dependable character.

A famous cook offers this suggestion for bread stuffing for turkey: Cut white bread into slices about half an inch thick. Butter each slice, discard the crusts and cut the slices into half-inch cubes. The bread is then ready for the seasonings. She thinks the butter flavors the bread better when added this way.

Peanut Butter

Peanut butter salad dressing will make a hit when served on fruit salad. Cream one-third of a cup of peanut butter with two-thirds of a cup of French dressing. Mix with a fork, chill and pour over the salad ingredients arranged in large bowl or on serving plates.

Rustic Furniture

To keep rustic outdoor furniture in good condition, wash it, dry it thoroughly, then give it a thin coat of shellac. Wrap it in papers before storing in attic or basement. This treatment not only will improve the looks of the furniture but also will lengthen its wearing qualities.

Book of the Week

"THAT'S MY STORY," by Douglas Corrigan (Dutton: $1.50).

* * *

AMERICA'S first great air hero, Charles Augustus Lindbergh, wrote a book, or published one over his name. It was called "We," if memory holds, and sold tremendously.

Now that the news has worn off Col. Lindbergh, America has another air hero named Douglas Corrigan. Corrigan got that way, to hear him tell it, by making a slight mistake in reading his compass and failing to notice the mistake for many hours—in fact, not until he "guessed" he must be over Ireland. Corrigan has not yet explained just how he happened to "guess" Ireland when he thought all the time he was going west.

Now Corrigan has written a book. John Macrae has written us two notes telling of his joy in reading the book and insisting that Corrigan himself wrote it. He probably did, and for that fact one should be grateful. The book is honest.

In fact, it's been quite a spell since this reader has read a more nearly literal life story. Corrigan was born in Galveston, Tex., lived in Arkansas Pass, and as a young boy was taken to San Antonio. There his family passed through its one period of affluence. Then his father deserted the family, and his mother bravely kept things going via the boarding house route until the post-war slump finished her there. With real nerve, she decided to move to California.

Douglas was originally named Clyde, for his father; his mother changed the name because she wanted no reminders of her civil engineer - contractor - confectionery shop proprietor-poet husband around the house. Douglas suffered the usual boy stages, running away one day and making a dollar selling papers the next. He once forced a paper on Douglas Fairbanks pere, and still has the dime Fairbanks handed him in exasperation. Apparently it has brought Corrigan as much luck as the average Rockefeller dime.

The book trots along, through scene after scene, until the famous flight begins. It does not confess a thing, although it adds drama to the flight by telling how serious that gasoline leak really was. The laconic descriptions of the "welcomes" in America, incidentally, are delicious.—By J. S.
